President's Unemployment Committee Makes Report

POVERTY IS CRIME CAUSE SAYS LEADER

Chairman Woods Declares
Number of Jobless In U. S. Doubled In Year

BUSINESS MEN AID

Beginning of Industrial Evolution Is Evidenced
In Last Few Months

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Chairman Arthur Woods, of the president's emergency employment committee, told the senate appropriations committee today that unemployment has doubled in the United States since the April 1 census. He attributed to poverty and lack of jobs a direct relationship with crime.

Woods said the April census figures had shown 2,500,000 completely unemployed. He estimated the number now to be between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000. He said, however, there was evidence of the beginning of an industrial evolution in dealing with the unemployment problem. Where employers formerly had discharged men on a wholesale scale at the first intimation of depression, Woods said there now was a tendency to keep them on the payroll, on part time if necessary.

"I don't want to say how widespread that evidence is," Woods continued, "but we see it all around. Many are attempting to care for men discharged by loans to be repaid later when they resume work, by permitting them to continue to live in company houses and by backing their credit with merchants."

"This is not done out of charity or as a welfare project, but because it is good business. The president's committee is circulating pamphlets on this subject. I am impressed by the change in the attitude of business."

Senator Copeland, democrat, New York, said "the situation has been minimized and one of our difficulties is that we have been unwilling to admit how serious the condition is." But Senator Phipps, republican, Colorado, thought to advertise the seriousness of the problem might intensify it.

Repeating to Copeland's question whether there was a connection between widespread unemployment and crime, Woods said:

"There certainly is. Poverty is one of the great causes of crime. Crime is not all committed because people have different shaped heads or different colored hair. It is born of need, dismay and desperation."

"Do you agree," asked Copeland, "with Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler that the social order is in jeopardy?"

"I don't think it is in immediate danger," Woods replied. "We have had a warning well in advance. But poverty and unemployment are among the great causes of crime."

Woods showed the committee where delay in legislation, particularly regarding obtaining sites for public buildings, had interfered with the administration's construction program. Copeland chided Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, for permitting one of these bills to remain before his committee for a

Happy In Jail Because His Family Can Eat

FRESNO, Calif., Jan. 7.—(UP)—Although Homer J. Pinneau, 21-year-old jobless husband and father of two babies, was in jail today, he was almost happy.

Pinneau admits he doesn't like jail, but he says he knows that as long as he is in one his family will be given care.

Pinneau told Judge J. G. Crichton he deliberately cashed $90 of worthless checks to provide for his family. He said welfare and charity organizations had refused help because he had not lived here long.

He asked to be sent to superior court as soon as possible so he could plead guilty.

BRAZIL HONORS GENERAL BALBO AND AVIATORS

Crews of 10 Italian Planes
Feted at Natal Today
By Government

NATAL, Brazil, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Brazil feted Air Minister General Italo Balbo today and the crews of 10 Italian seaplanes who spanned the South Atlantic in a flight of almost 1900 miles to Natal from Bolama, Portuguese Guinea.

The flight was made in 17 hours and 10 minutes. Two of the seaplanes that began the flight were forced down at sea and were brought here by Italian warships stationed along the route. One was picked up by the destroyer Antonio Mosto. The other landed near the island of St. Paul, 475 miles northeast of Natal.

Congratulations poured in on Balbo and his men as they prepared for three days of celebration in their honor here. Balbo was the guest of the local government and stayed at the governor's villa. He was accompanied by the Italian consul and representatives of the state and federal governments.

The flight of the 12 seaplanes across the Atlantic began in darkness, the Italian Consul Muro quoted Balbo as saying. The sky was overcast. The weather improved during the flight and the winds were favorable generally, although poor visibility was encountered off the Brazilian coast.

The fliers were acclaimed everywhere they appeared in Natal. They plan to remain here for three days and then continue to Bahia and Rio de Janeiro, where the seaplanes will be delivered to the Brazilian government.

NEW YORK PLANE REACHES BERMUDA

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Jan. 7.—(UP)—The seaplane Tradewind, carrying Mrs. Beryl Hart and Lieut. William S. MacLaren Jr., on a projected flight from New York to Paris, arrived here at 1 p. m. from Norfolk.

The cabin plane carrying the red-haired widow and her flying instructor made a quick and easy flight from Norfolk, which it left at 6:09 a. m. (EST) today.

The Tradewind started its flight from New York last Saturday and flew almost to Bermuda, but was unable to make the islands and returned to Norfolk.

G. O. P. Treasurer Denies Campaign Against Senator

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Treasurer Joseph R. Nutt of the Republican national committee told the Nye committee today he did not condone the secret campaign against Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, but that he believed Norris did not belong to the party.

Nutt said Robert H. Lucas, executive director, had the authority and would have been advised against his concealed attack upon the insurgent Nebraska Republican.

GEN. JOFFRE IS LAID TO REST THIS MORNING

All France Mourns As Her
"Savior" Carried to
The Invalides

PARIS, Jan. 7.—(UP)—France mourned her "savior," Marshal Joseph Joffre, with all the splendor due one of the generation's outstanding heroes as the old soldier's funeral procession passed through the streets of Paris from Notre Dame cathedral to the Invalides today.

Joffre's body was placed in a circular sarcophagus inside a square tent, draped with black and violet, at the Invalides. Battle flags were arranged in the formation of mounting guard. A Napoleonic bronze stood in each of the four corners around the marshal's resting place.

The three remaining marshals of France, Henri Petain, Hubert Lyautey, and Louis Franchet d'Esperey, with United States Ambassador Walter E. Edge, bore the marshal's funeral pall. Joffre's body will remain at the Invalides until a mausoleum is constructed on his country estate near Paris.

Princes, general and statesmen whose names are famous throughout the world marched in the procession with maimed privates who served Joffre in the trenches. The marshal's body was carried on a gun carriage while ex-soldiers and men and women old relatives in the World War knelt in pious tribute. A million persons lined the route followed by the marshal's cortege in its journey across the city. Many had stood silently for hours waiting for the procession to start.

The grateful farewell of France was voiced by Minister of War Louis Barthou in a funeral oration at the Invalides.

SEVERE BLIZZARD STRIKES NEW YORK

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., Jan. 7.—(UP)—One of the most severe blizzards of recent years swept northern New York today.

Snow has fallen almost incessantly over a great part of the section for more than 24 hours, and there were few indications that the severe weather would abate.

Huge drifts blocked roads to the north, paralyzing motor traffic. Tourists who arrived from southern points said many roads in that region also were impassable.

Almost two feet of snow blanketed the Lake Placid region and other parts of the Adirondack mountains.

Bishop Cantwell At Services Here

The Rt. Rev. Bishop John J. Cantwell, of the diocese of Los Angeles and San Diego, officiated at impressive ceremonies at the chapel of the Mother House of the Sisters of St. Joseph yesterday morning.

Forty-five young women participated in the reception of the habit, which is held twice a year at the chapel by the sisters of this order. Another similar service is to be held at the chapel on July 2.

Crime Body To Report In Few Days

Politics and Negligence
Will Be Blamed For Enforcing Failure

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(UP)—One section of the forthcoming prohibition report which the Wickersham law commission reassembled today to complete, will place blame for enforcement failures in part on corruption, local politics and negligence by local officials, the United Press learned today.

After a study of voluminous evidence, members of the commission are known to feel that weakness of city and county officials in some localities accounts for some of the most flagrant disregard of the prohibition laws. This aspect of the problem, it is understood, will be emphasized as a major contributing factor to difficulties of enforcement.

The report, it is said in quarters close to the commission, will recommend no fundamental changes in federal prohibition laws, and will not recommend legalization of beer, a national referendum or any alteration of the 18th amendment. Instead, it is said, it will emphasize continuation of federal activity with greater state and local co-operation.

It was the expectation that all members of the commission would sign the report. However, several, including Federal Judge William S. Kenyon, while concurring in the report, are likely to do as United States supreme court justices do occasionally—append separate opinions taking issue with some points.

Indications today were that the report would be in President Hoover's hands at least early next week. When it is to be made public will rest with the president.

LIBERIA SLAVERY SYSTEM ATTACKED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(UP)—A critical outspoken document, warning against the continued practice of slavery and forced labor in the small African republic of Liberia, has been transmitted to that government by the state department, the United Press learned today.

Informing the Liberian government that it will lose the friendship of the United States unless these abuses are corrected, the department memorandum charged:

1. That Liberian officials are conniving at the slave trade in private while publicly condemning it.
2. That high Liberian officials themselves use forced labor.
3. That despite promises to inaugurate reform, no measure to stop slavery has been adopted by the Liberian government.

German Steamer Sinks In Harbor After Collision

LONDON, Jan. 7.—(UP)—The German steamer Carl sank after a collision with the Swedish steamer Themis in Swinemunde harbor today, Lloyd's agent at Stettin reported.

Casualties were unknown.

HISTORIAN DIES

TRUCKEE, Calif., Jan. 7.—(UP)—Charles F. McGlashan, 83, famous California journalist, attorney and scientist, died at his home here last night after an illness of several months.

Author of historical works on the ill-fated Donner party, McGlashan was widely known as a historian. He was also former editor of the Santa Barbara Press and the Truckee Republican.

WOMEN FLIERS REMAIN ALOFT IN MONOPLANE

Complete 72 Hours in Air
This Afternoon—Hope To Break Record

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—(UP)—New world records were the only birthday presents Miss Bobbie Trout expected today as she and her co-pilot, Edna May Cooper, soared over Municipal airport in the monoplane "Lady Rolph" adding hour after hour to their new refusing endurance record for women.

Miss Trout was 25 years old today. A birthday cake was promised her by the ground crew, but she and Miss Cooper said they would only look at it.

A strict diet outlined by a physician at the field would not permit them to bite even into the frosting and the cake, he said, must remain uneaten until they return to earth.

If the girls attain complete success, the cake would be rather stale by the time they are allowed to eat it, for they were intent upon eclipsing the world's mark of 647 hours, 25 minutes, 30 seconds set last summer by Forrest O'Brien and Dale Jackson in St. Louis. Thirty minutes more than 27 days was their objective, and possibly as much as a month.

One of the most interested spectators at the field yesterday when the two girls equalled the former unofficial mark for women of 42 hours, 16 minutes, was Carl Cooper, nine-year-old son of Miss Cooper.

Even close friends of the former motion picture actress were unaware that she had been married, and airport officials professed no knowledge of the name of her former husband, other than that he was a Texas man.

Young Carl ran all over the field waving at his mother as the Lady Rolph swept down to a 500 foot altitude during the morning, and his mother, recognizing him, threw him kisses. He was brought to the airport by Mrs. Mary May Cooper, his grandmother.

Other interested spectators were Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Trout, parents of the chief pilot of the ship. Their daughter's flying activity no longer causes them wonderment or uneasiness, and only when Miss Trout has accomplished some unusual feat do they even pay any attention to her flights.

Miss Cooper has recovered from burns about the face, received while refueling yesterday noon. The refueling hose pulled loose from the tank and sprayed her with gasoline.

Near collapse with the gasoline in her eyes, nose and mouth, Miss Cooper lay down on her air mattress while the refueling plane, manned by Bud Hussey and Ralph De Rose, raced to the ground for saline and bandages. The first aid equipment, lowered to her in a sack, soothed the girl's burning face, and after a four-hour rest she was able to resume the refueling operations.

At 2:30 p. m. today the girls had passed their 72nd hour in the air and gave no indication that their nerves were frayed or that their motor was functioning badly.

H. L. Carnahan Not To Accept Office Of Commissioner

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 7.—(UP)—H. L. Carnahan, who retired yesterday as lieutenant governor of California, has been offered but probably will not accept appointment to the $6000-a-year position as state building and loan commissioner under Governor Rolph, it was learned here today.

Carnahan verified the offer from Rolph, but indicated his private business in Los Angeles would make it impossible to accept the post.

The office of building and loan commissioner has been vacant since the resignation of Charles A. Whitmore, of Vanilla, following the recent $5,000,000 looting of the Guaranty Building and Loan association of Los Angeles by Gilbert Beesemyer.

Net Returns Reported At Annual Meet

All Officers and Directors Are Re-elected—Newman Is President

NET RETURNS OF $436,354 on 273 cars of citrus fruit, comprising 35,767 packed boxes, were received by grower members of the Irvine Citrus association during the 1929-30 season, it was revealed at the annual meeting held at the packing plant on the San Joaquin Fruit company yesterday.

The gross returns were $510,929.33. The house handled 199,504 field boxes.

The same officers and directors were named at the meeting. They are as follows: C. V. Newman, president; C. E. Utt, director; A. L. Trickey, vice president; George Jeffrey, director; and James Irvine Jr., director.

J. H. Bray, secretary-manager of the fruit association, was re-elected to the position.

The association is affiliated with the California Fruit Growers' exchange.

EXECUTION OF 3 SLAYERS DELAYED

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Jan. 7.—(UP)—Governor Rolph today moved to delay the execution of three slayers at San Quentin in order to gain more time to study their cases.

Rolph indicated he would reprieve the condemned men in order to avoid one of the executions being carried out during inaugural week, and to give his investigators time to look into their applications.

One of the trio, Pedro Masasay, Fresno slayer, was scheduled to be hanged Friday. He has already received a reprieve from Governor Young.

The others, Hresco Lecang, Fresno, and Victor Parolan, San Jose, were due to die January 23.

FAMOUS NOVELIST PASSES IN JAPAN

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 7.—(UP)—Mrs. L. Adams Beck, who won fame as a novelist both under her own name and also under the pen-name of E. Barrington, died in Japan January 3, according to word received by her nephew here.

For many years after Mrs. Beck won wide recognition as a novelist the world did not know who "E. Barrington" was. The anonymity was finally dropped and thereafter she wrote much under her own name. A number of her novels were produced in motion pictures. She formerly made her home here.

New Government In Guatemala Is Approved by U. S.

Original colored plates of the Downy Woodpecker are on display in the Sycamore street window of The Register, at the Juvenile library on West Fifth street and in the Watkins' Bookery at Fourth and Sycamore streets. Tomorrow night is the closing hour in which colored pictures may be submitted.

STATE IGNORES SANTA ANA IN WATER PLANS

Program Calling For Expenditure of $135,- 000,000 Outlined

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 7.—(UP)—A $135,000,000 co-ordinated water program for the state of California was presented to the legislature today as the bill-introducing period of the present session got underway.

Marked by a recommendation against the $50,000,000 salt water barrier across Carquinez straits, as predicted by the United Press recently, the other outstanding features of the report were:

- 1.—The $85,000,000 Kennett dam on the upper Sacramento valley, to provide water for importation into the southern San Joaquin valley.

- 2.—The $50,000,000 Friant dam on the San Joaquin river to eliminate the dam and pump system in the lower San Joaquin valley.

- 3.—Aid toward construction of the canal to bring water to the southern coast counties, now being undertaken by the Metropolitan water district at a cost of about $20,000,000.

Federal money would be available for construction of these projects under a state guarantee of repayment of principal and interest of 3 1/2 percent or less, the commission said.

"The need for furnishing the southern counties of the San Joaquin with an additional water supply, the report declared, is vital. New water must be made available to prevent an area of approximately 150,000 acres and producing $20,000,000 worth of various crops annually, from largely reverting to desert conditions."

Although final solution of the San Joaquin valley problem involves the taking of water from the Sacramento river and conveying it south, through a series of booster dams at the mouth of the San Joaquin river, such transportation could be left until a future time, the investigators believed.

In giving preference to Kennett dam, will answer the joint purpose of improving navigation and flood control, and make available large quantities of fresh water for irrigation and industries.

Three bills to put the commissions recommendations into effect will consist of constitutional amendments authorizing the state to guarantee the federal government reimbursement of the cost of the Kennett-San Joaquin projects, giving the state power to guarantee the bonds of the district importing Colorado river water into Southern California, and creating a special tribunal to appraise, for condemnation purposes, the water rights and other properties needed for the big Sacramento-San Joaquin valley project.

It was also urged that a state commission go to Washington, D. C., to confer with President Hoover on federal aid and arrange for introduction of bills in congress to carry out these agreements.

SEEKS JUDGESHIP

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Judge Victor R. McClure of the Los Angeles superior court was presented to President Hoover today by Senator Shortridge, California, as a candidate for a federal judgeship.

Senator Shortridge said Judge McClure had been mentioned as a possible successor to Federal Judge William P. James in case Judge James is named to a vacancy in the ninth district.

EFFORTS TO REFER BILL FRUITLESS

Laguardia of New York
Insists City Sufferers
Be Given Assistance

NEW PLAN EVOLVED

Governor Arkansas Pleads
In Telegram For Additional Aid For State

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Attempts to take the drought relief bill from Speaker Longworth's desk for action by the house failed again today.

Reference to conference again was blocked by Representative Laguardia, republican, New York, who insisted that the bill should be sent back to the committee to provide aid for city sufferers. Democratic members sought vainly to get immediate consideration by the house.

The bill was sent back to the house Monday after the senate, on motion of Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, had added $15,000,000 for human food to the $45,000,000 already authorized to the administration measure.

When an attempt was made yesterday in the house to send the bill to conference to iron out this difference with the senate, Laguardia objected following his failure to get a vote on floor loans to city dwellers. His action today prolongs the deadlock.

Sen. Joseph T. Robinson, Arkansas, minority leader, received a telegram today from Governor Parrell of Arkansas, appealing for continued help from the Red Cross and the federal government, as well as additional appropriations for food. Receipt of this direct appeal is expected to strengthen the bill. He is expected to strengthen the bill. He is expected to strengthen the bill.

Republican leaders in the house now plan to wait a day or two and then bring in a special rule for consideration of the bill, in order to check attempts to add the $15,000,000 for food loans approved by the senate.

Democratic Floor Leader Garner moved, when the house met today, to take up the bill and consider it as an original measure. He was informed by Speaker Longworth that Chairman Wood of the appropriations committee had charge of the measure.

Wood replied that the bill was different from no other measure and moved it be sent to conference.

The fighting New York member then entered the controversy to say he had received no assurances his request for relief for city unemployed would be provided, whereupon Wood replied that the Red Cross was able to take care of distress and that $3,000,000 had been raised in New York.

"You have no right to ask New York to raise $3,000,000 for our sufferers and then tax New York for the rest of the country," Laguardia said. "The best thing would be to send the bill back to the committee and give us a hearing."

"I object to the request," he said and the bill remained on Longworth's desk.

VICE PRESIDENT OF BANK SHOTS SELF

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Illness caused Victor A. Cagliari, assistant vice president of the Bank of Italy, to press a revolver to his right temple and commit suicide, police agreed today.

He left his home yesterday afternoon and was supposed to have gone to his office until a maid happened to look out of the window and notice his body slumped over against a wall adjoining his house.

It was known he had suffered for many months from nervous disorders and visited the Bank of Italy only occasionally. He was one of the original employees of the institution, starting as an office boy.

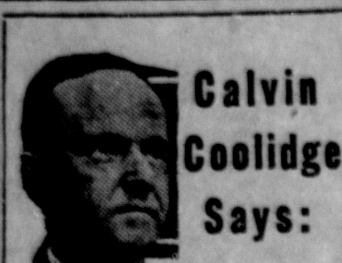

He is survived by his wife and two sons, but the cause of his illness is not known.

Now is the time when over shoes should be underfoot.

CIVIC LEADERS AND FINANCIER DISCUSS PORT

Calvin Coolidge Says:

BY CALVIN COOLIDGE

A proposal to develop Newport Harbor and extend it to Santa Ana, so that the county seat would become a world sea port, was discussed before directors of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce today by a group of men including Harold F. McCormick, of Chicago, financier and harvester magnate, Bruce V. Crandall, of Newport Beach, former executive of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, and Sumner Crosby, Laguna Beach publisher. The directors also heard a concise summary of the plans of the Metropolitan Water district, from Col. S. H. Finley of Santa Ana, who is secretary of the board of directors of the district.

McCormick made emphatic declaration that he regards the Los Angeles district, including the counties of Southern California, as second to none in the nation in opportunities, and expressed his pleasure at being present at the conference, and in being able to make his home part of the year at Laguna Beach.

He referred to the harbor project, which had been introduced for the group of some 20 leaders of Santa Ana's civic activities by Crandall, as a possibility which required thought and study, and which ultimately would be of great benefit if it transpires. "There seems to be room for it in the future," he said. He pointed out that the channel inland afforded a natural opportunity for the project which had been broached by his associates, and declared that many great projects that finally had reached fulfillment had been met with skepticism and numerous obstacles.

Crandall, in his talk before the board, asserted that harbors were one of the problems of the south coast which required discussion and consideration. He further declared that the matter was going to come regardless of what anyone says, and pointed to the commerce on the Atlantic coast as an illustration, going on to say that the Pacific ocean was greater and that there were greater possibilities of trade with the Orient than there ever were with Europe.

"Any natural harbor, such as we have," he added, "will ultimately be utilized. If the great growth of this territory continues for the next 50 years as it has in the past, Los Angeles will be the greatest city in the world and its harbor, which is now the second greatest port of entry in the United States, will have to be accordingly developed with canals and docking facilities far down the coast."

There will be three great benefits accrue as a result of placing Santa Ana on tide water, he asserted. It would provide the great agricultural district a better and cheaper form of transportation; it would offer ideal manufacturing facilities to great industries with consequent expansion and development; and would mean a rapid development of suburban districts adjacent to a great city which would be the result.

Crosby spoke briefly on educational matters, calling attention to an educational innovation which is being inaugurated at the Tustin union high school, where a bureau of human relations is being started in connection with the freshman class.

Col. Finley in his talk on the Former President of the United States NORTHAMPTON, Jan. 7. A few years ago we were discussing Americanization of our residents of foreign birth. Not being an appropriate word it aroused considerable antagonism among those we desired to help, which we can comprehend by thinking of our own reaction if, on entering a foreign country, volunteer associations or government agencies tried to transform us into natives. What we really intended was a course of helpful education to instruct new arrivals to the United States in the meaning of our laws and customs so that they might better avoid the perils and secure the advantages of being here. But with the natural attitude which people have and with the restrictions of immigration little outside help has been necessary.

The great proportion of immigrants duly become desirable citizens. But those who fail to respond to the privileges of our country who fall into evil ways and violate our laws should be punished for their crimes and then deported. We have all we can do to take care of deserving people without being burdened with those who demonstrate their unfitness to enjoy our liberties. The Secretary of Labor is right in proposing to enforce the deportation law.

affairs of the Metropolitan Water district reviewed the plans that have been developed by engineers for bringing water to this district from the Colorado river, and told why the Parker route had been so universally approved by engineers. He pointed out objections to other routes that had been proposed, and said the greatest item in construction of the aqueduct was a tunnel through the San Jacinto mountains, which would probably require three or four years to build. In the meantime the other parts of the aqueduct would be delayed so as not to create additional interest payments until the work was needed.

The water district official also said that the construction of a dam at Parker, the site of the intake for the aqueduct, would probably be delayed for five or 10 years in accordance with a recommendation of the engineers, to permit the river bed to become cleared of silt, so the reservoir behind the dam would not be filled with silt soon after it is completed, which is what would happen if this dam were built at the same time as the Hoover dam. It is the intention of the district to be pumped from the river and de-silted through settling basins before introduction into the aqueduct.

Following the adjournment of the session at the offices of the Chamber of Commerce, the directors and guests proceeded to the Santa Ana Country club where Mr. McCormick and his associates were guests of honor at a luncheon. W. C. Jerome, president of the organization, presided at the meetings.

DIVORCES ASKED BY LOCAL WOMEN

Charging cruelty, Melinda Collar of 735 West Main street, Tustin, today filed suit for divorce against her husband, Ralph William Collar, alleging that in July of last year he threatened to kill her and himself and "end it all."

She also alleges that he was arrested on a charge of possession of liquor and fined $300.

In her divorce complaint, filed today in the office of Joe Backs, county clerk, Mrs. Collar set forth that she and her husband have community property worth $93,000, the property chiefly consisting of land in and near Tustin. She asked that it be evenly divided and also asked a restraining order to keep him from molesting her.

The complaint shows the couple were married in 1918 and that they separated on January 5, of this year.

Alleging that her husband choked her and cursed her on various occasions, Estelle Epperly today sought a divorce from Edward W. Epperly, on the grounds of cruelty. The couple was married in 1924 and separated during the latter part of last year.

month without action. Smoot said the committee could not be convened during the holidays.

"I suppose they were all away eating big square meals," said Copeland.

Smoot promised immediate action and revived his relief program proposed before the holidays to have every employed person in the United States go without one meal a week and donate the saving to a relief committee. He said that would remove the necessity of a single person in this county remaining unemployed.

Copeland challenged him to seek legislation to that end and Smoot conceded it would be impossible to achieve that by law.

Woods refused to commit himself whether increased taxation would be justified to enable the government to make further public construction expenditures.

Governor Farnell of Arkansas appealed today to the senate minority leader, Robinson for continued help from the Red Cross and the federal government, and additional appropriations for food to relieve distress in that state arising from drought conditions.

Farnell's appeal was in reply to a telegram sent by Robinson after Chairman John Barton Payne of the Red Cross yesterday had charged reports of widespread and unrelieved distress in that state. With receipt of this appeal, the administration's effort to ban food from the relief federal list apparently encounters serious opposition.

L. A. PRODUCE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Local vegetables were more plentiful today and several lines moved at lower prices. There was a fair movement of apples at $2.75 to $3.25 per cwt. for Watsonville Newtown out of cold storage, with Bellefleurs at $2.00 to $2.25.

The best Davenport artichokes jobbed at $6.00 a box, with frosted at $4.00, while good San Luis Obispo stock brought $6.00 to $6.25. Avocados held steady at $3.25 to $3.50 a lb.

Local cabbage weakened to 75c to $1.00 a crate while cauliflower was lower at 75c to $1.00.

Imperial Valley grapefruit held steady at $2.75 to $3.00 a box for the fancy fruit, with heavily packed fruit at $2.25 to $2.75. Lettuce was plentiful and weak with liberal receipts of local lettuce depressing the market. ## SUIT OVER CHILD'S DEATH BEGINS HERE

Judge James L. Allen today was hearing the damage action brought against the Owl Taxicab company of Santa Ana and Mrs. Catherine Davies, its proprietor, by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Beisser, Santa Ana, who are asking approximately $11,000 for the death of their five-year-old son, Charles, who was killed when he was struck by a cab while playing in the street near his home on November 30.

The child ran out into the street and was injured before the car could be stopped, according to accident reports made of the case at the time. The baby died several hours later in the Santa Ana Valley hospital.

The case opened this morning and is expected to take no longer than one day.

FORESTERS AND FIRE WARDENS MEETING HERE

An attack on the report of the Ventura county grand jury concerning burning off of forest cover and a stand for revocation of the present conservation law for fire fighters featured the lengthy session of the Southern California Association of Foresters and Fire Wardens which is holding its quarterly meeting here today.

The grand jury report in the northern county recommended that all forest cover be burned off and declared that this would result in lower taxes through the saving in fire suppression costs. The association stands ready to make a vigorous attack on this report, according to Frank E. Dunne, of Santa Barbara, president. He declared the association believed in the conservation of brush cover, especially on precipitous slopes.

On the conservation matter, the association believes that a better method would be to carry trained crews on public works as road gangs of brush burning crews which would be available at times of emergency. This would lead to more effective work than conscripting crews of untrained workers of all classes, Dunne pointed out. He asserted that 25 trained men would be of more value than 100 conscripts. The conservation law is also un-American and is not fair to the men in charge of the work as it gives them men unfit for work, possibly some physically diseased, who might die under exertion, and the responsibility would rest on the fire fighting service.

Changes on the board of directors were made today as follows: Arthur Shay of San Bernardino county replaces George Parks; Allen O. Gossett, of San Luis Obispo replaces A. Hayward; and Joe Sherman of Orange county replaces W. E. Adkinson.

The banquet will be held tonight at Ketter's cafe.

The rear cockpit is enclosed in glass and painted black so that light cannot enter. The pupil sits in this cockpit, and the instructor in the regulation cockpit in front to bring the pupil out of trouble should he get into difficulties flying "blind."

20 MINUTE AIR ROUTE TO L. A. WOMAN WANTED FOR FORGERY

A new airline which takes passengers from Santa Ana to Los Angeles in 20 minutes and to San Diego in approximately 45 minutes is now serving the city, according to an announcement made today by Eddie Martin, of the Martin Airport on South Main street.

Following the discontinuance of the Maddux and the Western Air lines from Los Angeles to the southern city, G. E. Gilpin Airlines, of Los Angeles, started an even faster service, Martin said.

Stops were made by request at Santa Ana and passengers can be served here at any time. "The planes being used by Gilpin are faster than any we have ever had along this route," Martin said. "All of them are 10 passenger planes and all serve Agua Caliente and Escondido the same as the old lines did before they discontinued service on December 8," he said. Two trips are made daily to and from San Diego, one in the mornings and one in the afternoons, it was announced. The air line is operating out of the Grand Central Airport in Los Angeles.

Undersheriff C. W. Riggie will leave here late today for Kansas City, Mo., to return Mrs. Ed Snyder, 40, formerly of Costa Mesa, to Santa Ana to face charges of forgery.

Mrs. Snyder was arrested in Kansas City yesterday after Police Chief L. C. Rogers had followed her trail from Santa Ana since last November 18. At that time, she is alleged to have passed checks totaling $600 to local merchants on which none of them were able to collect.

The woman is asserted to have "bunked" at least 25 leading merchants of the city with her check scheme, Rogers said. All of the checks cashed were for $30 and all were asserted payroll checks. She lived at Costa Mesa at that time, but disappeared before any of the checks cleared from the banks, it was said.

After being arrested, she refused to waive extradition and the necessary papers were being made out at the sheriff's office this afternoon. Undersheriff Riggie will be accompanied to Kansas City by his wife for the trip.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, Jan. 7.—Mrs. Mary Johnson, who has been spending some months with her mother, Mrs. Ethel Buck, moved back to Long Beach Monday, having accepted her former position as private secretary to a Long Beach broker.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dauphine and daughter, June Dauphine, of Fullerton, were Sunday callers in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McCall. The Dauphines formerly were in business in Westminster and lived neighbors to the McCall's.

A delightful little program opened the Sunday school hour of the Junior department Sunday morning at the Presbyterian church, given by the class taught by Mrs. E. F. McClure and instructed by her.

Former local residents of the Westminster colony in early days were callers Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Anderson, the party being composed of Charles Clay and wife, who now reside on Piactella avenue, Anaheim, and Mr. Clay's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Ludden, of Pomona. Mrs. Ludden was Miss Bell Clay and is a teacher in the Spadra schools. Members of the Clay family were among the earliest local residents and the two recent visitors grew from childhood in this community, the family home being what is now the Charles Parr ranch, located just north of Westminster. School opened Monday in Westminster with practically a 100 per cent attendance and with a net gain of 18 pupils on the roll. 22 new pupils having been accepted and nine transfers were made to other schools for outgoing pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson motored to Pala Sunday and visited Mrs. Johnson's brother, Jess Beam.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Campbell entertained an evening dinner guests in their home, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Adams, of Lynwood, and later the two couples motored to Lynwood, where they were among guests at a party given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roucherville. Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs. George McGirk, of Williams, Calif., were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

Your expectation of the fulfillment of God's promise is summed up in the words: "He who has hoped or dreamed of good shall exist; not its semblance, but itself. The hard that proves too hard for the hero of earth to high" is to come true and that richer experience on beyond. Your dear one knows it now in Paradise and years to have you share it all. Kneel in prayer and the angel in sight around the next turn of the road. It is hard to plug along when the road seems so hard and your progress so slow; but you are on the right path and it leads to blessedness undreamed of.

PROSECUTION WINDS UP IN MURDER CASE

After presenting only two witnesses, the prosecution in the murder case of Albert Sutherland, of Wintersburg, charged with shooting to death Bert Meeks, several weeks ago, rested its case shortly before noon today in Judge G. K. Scovel's superior court.

The two witnesses were Walter Meeks, brother of the dead man, who was with him at the time he was killed, and F. W. Howard, former chief criminal deputy sheriff, who was one of the first officers at the scene of the shooting.

The trial opened yesterday afternoon, but most of the time allotted yesterday was taken in the selection of a jury. The first witness called was Mrs. Bertha Meeks Jackson, sister of Bert Meeks, who was in the Sutherland home at the time of the shooting. She testified that she did not see the shooting but heard the shot.

Efforts were made on the part of the defense to show the kind of reputation Bert Meeks had, when former Officer Howard was on the stand, but this was blocked by the district attorney. As a matter of fact, Meeks had been arrested here a number of times as a bootlegger and had served time in the county jail, but this information was not allowed in the records of the case.

Walter Meeks claimed on the stand that he did not know why Sutherland killed his brother, and that there was no apparent hard feeling between the two men. Sutherland is expected to claim self defense.

Four Men Taken To County Jail

Four men were arrested last night and booked at the county jail on various charges.

James H. Wilson, 45, San Juan Capistrano, was arrested for Denver, Colo., authorities, where he is wanted on a non-support charge. W. S. Smith, 19, mechanic, Hawaiian Gardens, was brought in and held on a check charge.

Overhead Crossing Project Discussed

The board of supervisors yesterday lunch with the Newport Beach city council at a Santa Ana cafe, where the group considered the question of the proposed overhead crossing at the Arches. Although the board expressed approval of the project, it was stated that at this time no money is available for the county to expend on the project. According to proposals already made, the cost would be apportioned between the state, county and city of Newport Beach. The state would pay $100,000 and the city and county would divide the expenditure of another $100,000 between them.

REDUCTION IN PRICE OF MILK IS ANNOUNCED

Effective today prices of milk in Orange county were reduced. The reduction followed a meeting of producers in the Farm Bureau offices last night and was made possible by the drop in prices of feed grain and hay, according to the announcement sent out today to milk consumers.

Quarts of milk were reduced in price from 14 to 13 cents. Pints remain at eight cents. Quarts of churned buttermilk were reduced from 13 to 12 cents, quarts of cultured buttermilk and cream prices remaining the same.

The announcement sent to consumers pointed out the value of milk as food, stressed its economy and declared that an extra glass of milk each day for every person would assist materially in reducing the problem of over production of dairy products.

Daisy A. Marsden, also known as Margherita Marsden, widely known singer, who recently filed a divorce action against her husband, has been granted temporary alimony in an order issued by Judge H. G. Ames following a hearing in his department of superior court. The order requires that the defendant, Dr. S. A. Marsden, pay $50 per month toward the support of his wife pending trial of the action. ## LOVE OF GOD IS TOPIC OF BISHOP MOORE

In his sermon at the First Evangelical church last night Bishop Arthur J. Moore, of San Francisco, addressed an overflow audience on "The Redeeming Love of God," taking his text from 1 John 3:1, "Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us."

The sermon was one of a series being given by Bishop Moore in the annual union week of prayer services here. In the course of his sermon Bishop Moore said:

"The most fascinating story in all the world is the story of God's redeeming love. It chains our admiration and stirs our deepest hearts. Jesus came into the world, lived and died to reveal to us the unspeakable grace of the Divine Fatherhood. The hope of the race centers in the great and forgiving heart of God. 'The sweetest words that ever fell from the lips of Jesus was, "Thy sins are forgiven thee." He approaches the sinful with a boundless sympathy and draws them to himself. Jesus was God after us. He came to win back our hearts and until this day he follows the least and lost with a quenchless compassion. The one experience that sets souls aflame with a holy and self-sacrificing love is the experience of God's pardoning mercy in Jesus Christ. "When we respond to this love we pass immediately into the favor and family of God. He is no longer only Creator, King or Master, he becomes Father. We are the objects of His love and mercy. He watches over us with

ARMY ADVISORY BOARD STAGES MEETING HERE

Santa Ana today was the scene of a meeting of the divisional advisory board of the Salvation Army. Brigadier James Dee, accompanied by Adj. Ballington Rogers, officers of the division, met with members of the board from various sections of the division, to discuss plans for definite movements which will be projected during 1931. The meeting took place at Ketter's cafe at noon.

One of the major dedications of the year will be held at Riverside Sunday afternoon, when the new quarters of the Army will be consecrated by Col. Andrew Crawford, chief western secretary, Col. Albert Widgery and Brigadier Dee.

Col. Crawford and Mrs. Crawford, assisted by Col. Widgery and Brigadier Dee, will open a 10 days indoor camp meeting in the Pasadena citadel Saturday night. This movement is of division wide importance, in that every corps from San Diego to Kern county, will be conducting similar services up to and including Easter Sunday. In the "On-to-Pentecost" campaign, "Back-sitter Sunday" really opened the campaign last week. Other special days will be devoted to comrades of yesteryear, young people, decision Sunday, day of salvation, home league, prison Sunday, retired officers, corps cadets, seniors and closing with a great meeting Easter day.

Monday will see the dedication of the new rescue home and maternity hospital in San Diego. This project has been taken over by the Salvation Army, and will be run as one of the great institutions of the organization. Formerly it was the Door of Hope home. Col. Crawford and Col. Widgery and Brigadier Dee, will be in charge of the dedication services. "We are most anxious that all soldiers and corps officers get behind the 'On-to-Pentecost' campaign at once," Brigadier Dee announced. "The commander-in-chief, Evangelical Booth, who will visit the Southland in February, has laid plans involving the entire nation, and it is to be hoped that the impetus in spiritual things will exceed anything ever attempted by the Salvation forces in the past fifty years of our existence."

the solitude of a Divine Father. "It therefore follows as a logical necessity that we strive in daily living to do only the things which please Him. If Jesus is to be the type and pattern of our heavenly life we must also accept Him as the type and pattern of our earthly life." Bishop Moore announces as his subject tonight, "Can the Church Save or Must We Salvage Civilization?"

Griffith Concern Asks Dismissal In Suit Over Bridge

Upon an affidavit of A. J. Davis, vice president of the Griffith company, a construction company of Los Angeles, a motion to dismiss the Griffith company as defendant in the injunction proceedings brought against the city of Santa Ana, its councilmen and the construction company, by the Talbert Drainage district, Newbert Protection district, Charles C. L. Leslie, Charles C. Bennett, John J. Mueller and Eva Todd, will be presented to superior court next Tuesday afternoon.

The suit was brought last year to enjoin construction of the Santa Ana boulevard bridge across the Santa Ana river. The bridge since has been completed and turned over to the city, and this is the basis on which the construction company is making its motion of dismissal.

The affidavit declares that the work was completed August 4, 1930, and accepted by the city on August 18, and that the construction company is under no obligation to maintain the structure.

STRIP OF LAND PRESENTED TO CITY COUNCIL

ORANGE, Jan. 7.—By the adoption of Resolution No. 432 at a meeting of the Orange city council yesterday, a strip of land about 400 feet long and 30 feet wide was dedicated to the city of Orange by Edwin C. Prevett as a part of South Clark street. The land has been used for street purposes for some time but had never been dedicated to the city.

A sum of $26 a year was granted the Horseshoe, Croquet, Checker and Domino club, following a request from W. F. Feldner, president; E. E. Curry, vice president; J. F. Tibbette, secretary, and Henry Delsel, treasurer, of the club. The money is to pay rental on the club grounds.
Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer, reported to the council that the city was particularly fortunate in regard to contagious diseases, as there were few here at present. Ray Smith, sanitary inspector, said that Orange has the most stringent laws regarding the keeping of poultry and rabbits of any city in the county and that sanitary conditions are most satisfactory.
A bill presented for the lighting of the Christmas trees was ordered paid by the council. The bill totaled $658.18. Of the sum, it was brought out, $95.08 was for power from the Southern California Edison company; King Wheel works, $77.70; Alpha Beta store, $48.20; Kogler hardware, $20.55; Hart Dry Goods company, $11.75; Orange Electric company, $222.58, of which $130.50 was for labor; the California Electric company, $245.72, of which $144.50 was for labor. Members of the Southern California Association of Foresters and Fire Wardens met today in Santa Ana and at 2 p. m. were to stage a demonstration of modern forest fire fighting methods and equipment at a spot about one mile west of Irvine park.

At noon the board of directors of the association met at Ketter's cafe for a business session. Tonight the association members are scheduled to gather at the cafe for a banquet. The meeting is the regular quarterly session of the organization and about 70 members from throughout the Southland were in attendance. A large crowd of residents of this section was expected to attend the demonstration of fire fighting equipment at the park.

Severin Schulte, 2530 North Valencia, Santa Ana, today had undertaken his new duties as agency manager in Los Angeles for the Bankers Life company. For the past seven years he has resided here with his family and has been assistant superintendent of agencies for the same firm. His work has required him to travel most of the time. Schulte assumed charge of the Los Angeles office on January 1, succeeding C. A. Wood, who recently resigned in order to retire from active business life.

In an announcement of the appointment the company said:

"Mr. Schulte has earned the promotion to the important position of agency manager by his work as assistant superintendent of agencies. Mr. Schulte has a splendid record in life insurance, has a thorough knowledge of his business and is exceptionally well qualified."

Courts Give 244 Final Divorces

A total of 244 divorce decrees and 10 annulments became final and effective in Orange county through action of the superior court during 1930. It is shown on a report for the United States department of commerce, census bureau, which has just been compiled by deputies in the office of County Clerk J. M. Backs. Practically all of the decrees had been granted on charges of cruelty or desertion. Final decrees are effective one year after the interlocutory decrees are granted by the courts.

Telephone service has been opened between Great Britain and Kovno and Memel in Lithuania.

CONTRACTS FOR BUILDINGS ARE MADE BY BOARD

Contracts were awarded by the board of supervisors yesterday afternoon for new buildings at Irvine park and for the dwelling which is to be built at the county yard of Fruit street. Both contracts were awarded to John C. Blystone, of Brea, who was low bidder on each project.

including a new concessions building and three lavatory buildings, amount to $23,000. One of the lavatories is to replace the present men's lavatory, another the lavatory at the playground, while the third is a new one to be built near the tennis courts. The concessions building is approximately 90x30 feet. The contracts include stools and counters at the concessions building, and tile flooring and wainscot and marble partitions in the lavatories. Frederick Eley is architect for this work.

The board authorized signing of a lease with Joseph P. Irwin, Irvine park custodian, for a period of four years, whereby all concessions will be in his hands. He will pay the county $2000 the first year, $3000 the second and third years and $3500 the fourth year under terms of the lease. He also will maintain, rent and repair the public boats.

ANOTHER CHANCE TO LEARN CALCULATING MACHINE USE

Mid-winter term of free evening classes opens January 8, 1931. Write to Department of Adult Education, 115 Church street, or phone 4250 for further information.

The Monroe Calculating Machine company, through their Santa Ana representative, H. E. Spickard, has agreed to loan extra calculating machines. This will enable us to give courses in calculating machine operation as applied to all lines of business. After the student has learned the basic operations of the machine; he may study special applications as applied to any single branch of business, such as banks, department stores, insurance, public utilities, oil company accounting, municipal and county business, etc.

There are many opportunities in this line of work to those who are well trained on the machine operation, and have the requisite education to fit them for those forms of commercial accounting.

To the business firms in the community such a course is of material assistance, as they often have employees, who by a little study at the night school, become more proficient and by the use of up-to-date methods increase the efficiency of their departments. This source of supply of well trained calculating machine operators will make it unnecessary to seek them in such centers as Los Angeles and larger cities. The classes will meet both Tuesdays and Thursdays in Room 217 of the Junior College with Henry P. Jackson in charge.

Y OFFERS GYM CLASS FOR MEN OPEN FORUM IS PLAN OF SANTA ANA Y LEADERS

A new gymnasium class for men is announced at the Y. M. C. A. to begin work Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

This class is to introduce beginners to the gymnasium class work, and is intended to serve men who are bashful about breaking into a group that has been at the work for some time and is more or less skilled in the games and exercises. It will provide for the men who enter it a chance to learn how to play volleyball and how to follow the general routine of class exercise and play so that they may fit into a regular class a little later on with ease and comfort.

"We know of a number of men," said Physical Director Russell, "who very much need this sort of work. They feel the need of systematic play and exercise, but are reluctant to enroll for one of the going classes, for they do not know just how to go about it. In this new class which is to be started tomorrow afternoon, I shall undertake to break the new men in with careful attention to their needs and ability. The work will be simple at first, and will prepare them for the more vigorous exercise which we use for more advanced members. We have been able to clear the way for this special new class on Thursday afternoons from 5 to 5:45, and in that time we shall be able to accomplish a great deal for those who enter. I hope that every man who is interested will show up at the start, as a large group will be far better than just a few on the floor."

"If any of the new men wish a special hour for that work, to learn to swim, we shall arrange suit individual convenience."

During the Middle Ages court tennis was popular among kings and nobles of Europe.

In a serious attempt to make some worthy contribution to the general knowledge of present-day problems, the Y. M. C. A. has arranged for a series of discussions in the form of an open forum of some of the most urgent questions now before the public.

A special committee consisting of Harry W. Lewis, P. F. Schrock and P. R. Davis has been at work on the subject for some weeks and the result of their work is seen in the announcement issued today of a series of four discussions to be held at the Y. M. C. A. building during the next few weeks.

The four problems to be studied are unemployment, crime, charity and education.

Next Monday evening at 7:30, Dr. Edwin P. Ryland of Los Angeles, will be the speaker to open the discussion on "The Problem of Unemployment." Dr. Ryland is well known to many local people through his work as a minister and an executive. He is a member of the governor's commission to study unemployment, and is in touch with conditions in general. Dr. Ryland will speak at length on the subject, and following his talk the matter will be thrown open for a general discussion by those present in the audience. It is expected that many phases of the problem will be made clear in the course of this discussion, and that some of the local elements of unemployment will be helped toward a solution. The forum will be open to all men and women who care to profit by it.

During the following weeks, the problem of crime will be discussed by K. J. Scudder, superintendent of the Whittier State school, the problem of charity by Miss Mary Wooley, chief case supervisor of the Los Angeles Tuberculosis association, and the problem of education by Dr. P. R. Davis, of Santa Ana.

ADELE RICHIE POST ASSETS ARE $21,682

Assets of the Adele Ritchie Post estate total $21,682.30, according to an inventory and appraisal which has been filed in the office of County Clerk J. M. Backs by a committee of appraisers composed of John N. Anderson, F. E. Callister and N. E. West.

Included in the assets is a distributive share of the estate of Doris Murray Palmer, who was shot and killed by Mrs. Post before she turned the same weapon on herself and ended her life in the Palmer home at Laguna Beach last summer. This share, which is claimed by Moresby White, Laguna Beach attorney who is executor of the will, consists of a life insurance policy for $1000 and jewelry, rings, beads, bracelets, etc., which was left to Mrs. Post in the will of the woman who murdered, all estimated at a value of $1505. Some question has arisen as to whether the Post estate will be entitled to the insurance money, due to the fact that it followed an act which would cause the beneficiary of the policy to benefit thereby, and the court may be called in to determine whether or not this claim is valid and can be paid.

Other assets of the Post estate include a grand piano, oil paintings, household furnishings, jewelry valued at $1600, and real estate. The real estate includes property at Laguna Beach valued at $8000, and in Pasadena, which is listed at a value of $7750.

PREFERRED THEM THIN
MOSCOW.—Scientists have unearthed among prehistoric bones near Irkutsk, in southern Siberia, three stone statues supposed to have been made by an ancient race. They show that men of that time preferred their feminine figures thin and tall. The statues, carved with skill, indicate that bobbed hair was popular at the time they were made.

CITIZENS HOLD DISCUSSION OF BEACH STATUS

The Citizens Beach association of Orange county met last night in the office of its president, Alfred E. Guy, Dana Point.

News of the acceptance, by the state, of E. L. Doherty's gift of 2600 feet of beach was received with great applause.

The status of the beach at Dana Point was then discussed. "We brought this matter of the closing of Dana Point beach to the attention of the board of supervisors last May," stated Guy, "and at that time we were accused of playing politics, so we thereafter tried to work quietly so as not to embarrass any candidate or office-holder. Elections are all over now and we will resume our fight to bring back every inch of public beach now unlawfully held by private interests. Mr. Woodruff, of the Dana Point syndicate, has fenced off the beach on Stillwater bay at Dana Point. The matter was brought to the attention of the county board of supervisors and properly referred by that body to the district attorney's office. In August, 1930, the district attorney, Mr. West, advised a delegation of this association that he had taken the matter up with Judge Drumm, representing the Dana Point syndicate and that he believed that the syndicate would deed a 10-foot strip of roadway to the beach. I have received word of no further action by the district attorney's office in this matter. During the past few months I have obtained certified copies of deeds covering Dana Point properties and these deeds are now being studied by our association's attorney, J. Harper Rhoads, of Los Angeles. It is my opinion that the stairway to the beach is not owned by Mr. Woodruff or the Dana Point syndicate and that that also will be open to the public."

"The association's attorney will attend the next meeting and recommend the action necessary to open the entire beach to the public."

ANNA STAMBAUGH HELD TO ANSWER

Anna Stambaugh, Westminster housewife, charged with failure to stop and render aid, was held to answer in the superior court following a preliminary examination held this morning before Justice Kenneth E. Morrison. Mrs. Stambaugh figured in a crash about a month ago in Westminster in the course of which her car struck another automobile occupied by two school girls. With Mrs. Stambaugh at the time was Betty Meeks, sister of Bert Meeks, of Smeltzer, killed on November 30 as a result of an alleged quarrel. Miss Meeks was arrested at the time on an intoxication charge but later released.

Gassy Stomachs Made Well

Every person who is troubled with gas in the stomach and bowels should get a package of Bismarck's Gas Tablets and see how quickly they will relieve all distressing symptoms. Sharp pains in the abdomen or about the heart are often due entirely to gas pressure. Sometimes the circulation is restricted, causing the hands and feet to grow numb. Usually there is much gurgling or rumbling in the bowels. Many sufferers complain of a gnawing feeling in the stomach, extreme nervousness, heartburn, drowsiness after eating, headache, dizzy spells or labored breathing. Bismarck's Gas Tablets taken at meal times not only prevent all bad effects from gas, but they invigorate the weak nerves of the stomach and assist in restoring the whole digestive system to proper working order. Genuine Bismarck's Gas Tablets—the yellow package—can be obtained at any good drug store. Price 11¢ everywhere.

Read what America's leading Automobile Editors say about free wheeling

(MANUFACTURED UNDER STUDEBAKER PATENTS)

"Through Studebaker the American automobile industry has taken another step forward to the perfect motor car. The new Presidents and Commanders, mechanically improved, made smarter in appearance and wired for radio, introduce for the first time in any car or country the Free Wheel mechanism as an integral part of the transmission and design of the car."

"This inbuilt improvement in the new Studebaker Eights provides a novel sensation in riding and driving which cannot be enjoyed in the conventional car. We know, because we spent an afternoon getting acquainted with these Presidents and Commanders and their Free Wheeling feeling."

"There is nothing complicated or mysterious about Free Wheeling... The method of operation is simple and easily mastered. The gear shift positions are the conventional ones standard on most American cars."

"You have a free foot (with Free Wheeling) as well as four free wheels. Also you don't have to use head and feet to the extent required by the conventional gear system. Ease, silence and simplicity are the most striking features of this Free Wheel mechanism."

ROBERT MOUNTS,
New York Sun

"I have just driven the new Studebaker and do not hesitate to say that during my many years of driving all makes of automobiles this new Studebaker is in a class by itself—regardless of price, and contains a new thrill for anyone who is fortunate enough to drive it."

A. C. BAILEY,
Memphis Com'l Appeal

HERE is the verdict on Free Wheeling with positive gear control, Studebaker's momentous conquest of momentum. It has been rendered by an unprejudiced jury of experts as could be found... the automobile editors of leading newspapers. An automobile editor must be fair to all car manufacturers. He speaks freely, openly, honestly, regarding motor cars as he sees them and knows them by actual experience.

Read these astonishing facts about Free Wheeling, then prove them to your own full satisfaction, as the guest of your Studebaker dealer. Give Free Wheeling the opportunity to win you, as it invariably wins all who enjoy its delightful thrill.

"Free Wheeling, which makes possible the shifting of gears without the use of the clutch, is one of the outstanding contributions of the automotive industry to traffic safety."

That is the opinion of Pittsburgh traffic officials, including Director of Public Safety James M. Clark, Superintendent of Police Peter Walsh, Assistant Superintendent of Police Benjamin Marshall and Inspector of Traffic Police Jacob Dorsey. "The fact that the new Studebaker transmission arrangement makes it possible to rapidly change gears without the use of the clutch and without any lost motion is a safety contribution of great value," commented

Director Clark after a demonstration ride for the police officials.

Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph

"Unless I am mistaken, the new Studebaker Eights contain the most revolutionary mechanical feature brought out in this country for at least five years—Free Wheeling. It allows the car to cash in on its own momentum. Studebaker is the first in the field with this important improvement, which will doubtless appear on other cars in the near future. No company with the production, reputation and history of Studebaker could afford to take a chance on anything so revolutionary if it were not pretty well perfected. We are in for a brand-new motoring experience, through the introduction of Free Wheeling, that will be enjoyed by the motoring public."

GEORGE W. SUTTON, JR.,
Buffalo Evening News

"One of the outstanding features (of Free Wheeling) is that as soon as pressure is relieved on the accelerator, the engine immediately drops to idle, while the car continues to glide forward swiftly. During this process, the gears are in mesh, leaving the driver in complete control. There is a saving in gasoline and oil due to reduction of usage of engine power. Also the driver may shift gears from second to high and from high to second at any speed without touching the clutch."

New York Herald Tribune

"I have just enjoyed a brand new experience in automobile driving..."

"I have driven mile after mile in second gear, and the loudest sound I could hear was the swish of the tires on the road."

"I never touched the clutch except to start or back up."

"When I took my foot off the accelerator, whether car was in second or in high, there was no sensation of 'piling up'. The car coasted along exactly the same as if I had let out the clutch."

"All this is just another way of telling you that I have had a ride behind the wheel of a new Studebaker. And the thing that makes possible the new experience I have related is 'Free Wheeling', an engineering principle that has made its first appearance in America in a new series of Studebaker Eights."

Fire Protection District Is Slated For Olive

GROUP OPPOSES EXTENSION OF TUSTIN AVENUE

OLIVE, Jan. 7.—The Olive Improvement association met last night for the first meeting of the year. President L. A. Bortz presided. The business of chief interest was that of adequate fire protection for the community, which has engaged the association for the past months. The committee headed by Furl Shell has spent a great deal of time getting the necessary information on cost and the best methods of procedure.

After consultation with the county supervisors, the district attorney's office and the Western States Water company, the committee recommended the formation of a fire protection district for Olive. This will necessitate a survey of the boundaries to be included, and a petition for the formation of the district. The cost of maintenance will be about $150 a year, to be raised by taxation. It was stated by Bortz that the county would advance the funds for installation of the fire plugs which would be available in the near future; also that the city of Orange had so arranged its insurance that its fire department would be able to answer an emergency call.

Ranger Sherman presented the advantages and disadvantages of forming a separate district.

The recommendation of the committee was adopted and the president was authorized to proceed with the steps necessary for the formation of the district.

The other item of chief interest was the extension of Tustin avenue north over the hill to meet the Santa Ana canyon road. J. R. Nunn and O. W. Sisson, of Orange, were present and presented the matter with the aid of a recent traffic chart. All present were of the opinion that the proposed extension of Tustin avenue would not be beneficial to Olive, but rather detrimental. The project favored was the straightening of North Glassell from Olive to Taft avenue, making it a part of the secondary highway system of the state. A resolution to that effect was passed and will be forwarded to N. T.

MEXICO JAUNT DESCRIBED FOR ORANGE MASONS

ORANGE, Jan. 7.—Mexico as seen through the eyes of two returned travelers was pictured at a meeting of the Masonic lodge last night, when Lucien Flippin, senior warden of the lodge gave a travel talk and K. E. Watson showed interesting moving pictures of scenes in Mexico.

The talk followed a 6:30 o'clock dinner served by members of Scepter chapter of the Eastern star. At the lodge meeting a full roster of officers was present.

Flippin described the cities through which he and a group of travelers passed and told of visiting the pyramids built by an unknown people.

The pictures shown by Watson were most interesting and among them were those of a bull fight when six bulls were killed. Watson explained the pictures as they were shown on the screen and declared that it was a source of surprise to the group to find what was a wonderful and large country was the southern neighbor of the United States.

WARRANT FOR $10,441 GIVEN WINNERS OF DAMAGE ACTION

ORANGE, Jan. 7.—At a regular meeting of the Orange city council yesterday a warrant for $10,441.90 was issued to Wallace B. Dennis and May E. Dennis as a judgment on a law suit between the city of Orange and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis.

The case, which involved the washing away of an acre of full bearing orange trees and an acre of gum trees belonging to Dennis by the flood waters of the Santiago creek in 1927, has been in litigation since that time.

The check included interest on a judgment of $8,000, costs involved in the trial in superior court and costs involved in the court of appeals.

The final decision was handed down from the court of appeals on November 22, 1930.

EXTENSION OF TIME GRANTED DRAIN BUILDER

ORANGE, Jan. 7.—An extension of 60 days was granted John Artukovich, Los Angeles contractor, on the $75,000 storm drain, under course of construction here. C. C. Bonebrake stated that this period of time would not be needed to complete the project but that it would be needed to figure the assessments of the districts, which includes the entire city and which will number nearly 4000.

A communication from A. R. Todhunter revealed that in digging the drain too close to the west wall of a building of which he is the owner at 240 West Chapman avenue, the wall had settled and he asked $6000 damages. Artukovich and Todhunter are to meet to arrange a settlement, it was said.

The building is occupied by the Mansur Motor company.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Of the southern and western racing plants, Agua Caliente is the most extensively equipped. One-Eye Connolly says they have Oriental rugs there for the horses to sleep on. . . . Some of the horses, however, retain their habits of sleeping at the post. . . . At Agua Caliente, anyway, there are Moorish castles all over the place. . . . Thick rugs to walk upon. . . . Thick rugs are nice when one's heels are low. . . . Every day airplane consignments of film folk arrive for the day's sport, which includes not only horse-racing but the king of games that attract all that Nevada publicity for Clara Bow. . . . And if one is inclined to throw a rock at himself, there is always a place at one's elbow where one can imbibe of tequila. . . . which is the sort of stuff that makes a person rob his own trunk.

NEW SPEECH FOR HEYDLER?

Something should be done about a new speech for John A. Heydler. In a couple of weeks now, Prexy Heydler, who is president-secretary-treasurer of the National league, will break forth into oratory suggestive of another baseball season. Already we can hear him:

"I expect a tight six-club race in the National League, with the other two teams showing remarkably improved strength in all departments of the game. Last year was the biggest season we ever had, in point of attendance. But, despite the depression, this year may show a steady increase in the popularity of the national pastime."

The odd part about the speech is that Prexy Heydler is nearly always right. The National League race always is tough, because of the even distribution of playing strength. And the season's receipts usually outdo the intake of the season gone before.

A NEW NOTE

It would be easy for Prexy

Heydler to change the tone of his speech this year, add news value and make it something of which the league could be proud. With the aid of the league's club owners, Prexy Heydler would be able to arise and shock the world with the following immortal lines:

"Owing to the state of economic depression through which the country is passing, the league this year will turn over the opening day's receipts for the relief of the unemployed poor."

Under the circumstances, that would be about as pretty a speech as Prexy Heydler could make. And, while plagiarism is to be avoided wherever possible, the speech would be a good one for Prexy E. S. Barnard of the American League to copy. The danger of Prexy Heydler suing Prexy Barnard for copying his speech would be slight.

IMPROVEMENTS
Trading of players and new acquisitions from the minors have not come up to the volume of former years. It appears the ivory market is passing through a period of readjustment, too.

The Cubs, by reason of Rogers Hornsby's activities, look to be the most helped. Three veteran pitchers have been added to the roster—Jackie May of the Reds, Lester Sweetland of the Phils and Bob Smith of the Braves.

The Robins have added hitting strength. The Cardinals will have two new pitchers when the campaign begins, Dean and Derringer—and of Dean it is expected much will be heard.

Mechanically the Giants led the league during the season of 1930—fielding and batting at the top. It was pitching the McGraw clan lacked, and improvements in this department are expected this year.

Mr. Heydler—or Mr. Barnard—could mention a few of these matters in the training season speech—but how about that other part, about the opening day's receipts? It would be bound to make a hit.

$500,000 for Schmeling—Now and Then—Aiming at Thorpe's Record

If anyone had offered Max Schmeling $500,000 a year ago, that anyone would have confronted a laughing-eyed youngster making coughing or choking noises, and pawing the air in an attempt to express interest in the proposition. However, now that the same youth has stepped in the way of a foul blow, $500,000 seems a reasonable amount, and one which might be due him as world's champion.

Unfortunately, Herr Max has the usual unusual clauses written into several kinds of contracts binding him to fight first in New York, where it is very likely that a puffing Sharkey will clown through the movements of a heavyweight battle with him. Which might also be termed the championship of the non-fighting heavyweight division.

L. A. GOLF TOURNEY STARTS Sharkey May Be Named Champion

NEW YORK BODY PAVES WAY BY UNSEATING MAX

BY HENRY MCLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—(UP)—Jack Sharkey of Boston, the unluckiest and at the same time the luckiest fighter in the business, may emerge from the tangled heavyweight situation as champion of the world. That is, the portion of the world ruled by the New York boxing commission.

When the commissioners took it upon themselves yesterday to suspend Max Schmeling and strip him of his royal robes, they paved the way for Sharkey's accession to the throne. And to make it all the more ridiculous he might get the championship without so much as striking a blow.

Sooner or later the commissioners will lock the doors and name a successor to Schmeling. Naturally they won't name the German to succeed himself. Stripling isn't likely to be available, for as soon as he even so much as dickers with Schmeling interests he will be suspended. With Stripling and Schmeling out of the picture Sharkey would be as conspicuous among the contenders as a water lily in Death valley and in all probability would be named as the new champion.

If he did wake up some morning and see in the papers that he was the new champion, Sharkey would probably go right on making the breakfast toast, for he has had entirely too many ups and downs to become excited over which way the wind blows.

The Boston sailor has had more than his share of breaks, both good and bad. His bad breaks include a knockout at the hands of Jack Dempsey after he had all but decapitated Jack in the rounds preceding the kayo. He got another tough break when Tunney chose Heeney as an opponent for a title match, and still another when he fouled Schmeling with the heavyweight title all but in his grasp.

If Sharkey should be named champion by the commission and Stripling and Schmeling fight for the title in Illinois under the N. B. A. banner, the world, whether it wants 'em or not, will have two heavyweight champions, or "half champions."

Speaking of a Chicago Stripling-Schmeling fight, Joe Jacobs, manager of Schmeling, told the United Press last night that he had not seen the Chicago stadium officials all day, and a title fight in that city was no nearer than it was a week ago. Jacobs said, however, that he expected to "run across" the Chicago men today, and something might come from the "running across."

SPRING'S COMING!! CUBS TALK BASEBALL

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—(UP)—The Chicago Cubs will start their spring training at Catalina island on February 17, President William Veck announced upon his arrival here for a month's vacation. The Cubs will remain on the island until March 13 before invading Los Angeles for exhibition series with the Angels.

Veck had plenty to say about the prospects of his outfit. First of all, the Cubs will face four tough clubs in the Giants, Pirates, Cardinals and Robins.

Reports that Rogers Hornsby, new playing manager, faced dissension in the ranks were laughed off by Veck. Charley Grimm, he added, will remain as first baseman, and that no trade involving Jim Bottomley is contemplated. Riggs Stephenson has recovered his throwing arm and will be back in the outfield.

LATHROP FIVE LOSE TO BEES IN CLOSE TILT

Pulling the game out of the fire by a sensational last minute rally, the Saint Class "B" basketball warriors downed a fighting bunch of hoop aspirants from the Julia Lathrop junior high school, 26-24. In one of the most thrilling scraps of the season, waged in Andrews gym last night.

The two teams went into the closing seconds of the fracas in a 24-24 deadlock after the Saints had overdone a four-point lead established by the Spartans early in the second half. Alex Clark then sank two points to put the game on ice for the Saints.

The two quintets got off to a fast start and were tied with 14 points each at half time. Six of Lathrop's seven baskets were made by "Pete" Welmer and Sorenson and when the totals were added it was found they were tied with Montgomery for high point honors of the evening.

Lathrop got the jump on their rivals in the last half and were well on their way to victory when they were overtaken by the whirlwind Saint finish. Montgomery starred in the second frame by garnering eight points and had a total of 10 digits to show for his labor.

The Lathrop and Saint second teams clashed in the nightcap and after a furious battle the Saint "scrubs" came out on top, 4-0. Chamberlain and Conrad scored the winning baskets for the Saints.

The "Bees" play their first league game next Friday night in the high school gym with the Woodrow Wilson "Bees" as their opponents. The set-to will start at 7:30.

18 LETTERMEN GIVEN AWARDS AT FULLERTON

FULLERTON, Jan. 7.—Eighteen members of the 1930 football team of the Fullerton district junior college received awards of letters at an assembly of junior college students yesterday in the college auditorium.

Athletic Manager Vincent Dausar praised the efforts of the team during the past year, pointing out that the Fullerton team won second place in the college conference when critics had picked the local aggregation as one of the "weak sisters" of the Southern California loop. Captain-elect Wendell Pickens was introduced to the assembly following the award of letters.

Following the awarding of the letters, the students were led in school yells by Lillburn Smith, yell leader.

Student Body President Arval Morris reported on the recent state junior college students' presidents convention which was held in Sacramento. Various problems relating to the administration of school affairs were discussed at the convention, Morris reported. He declared that the junior colleges of the state are working on a plan whereby a better feeling will be created among the colleges in an effort to present a united front.

ROBINS TO PLAY 31 EXHIBITION GAMES

ONLY FOUR MEN ELIGIBLE FOR DON CAPTAINCY

With the choice resting between four or five men, football lettermen of the Santa Ana junior college grid team will elect a new captain tomorrow night as one of the features of the annual football banquet being sponsored by the Brotherhood of Bachelors and Sisterhood of Spinsters at the First Christian church dining hall.

The outstanding men eligible for the honorary post are Mike Santa Cruz, all-conference tackle and former captain at Orange; Harry Clayton, all-conference tackle from Santa Ana; Emmett Seacord, backfield star from Tustin and "Toby" Greenow, end from Orange. The winner will succeed Captain Al Kluthe of Anaheim, all-conference center for two years and one of the best pivots in Don history. It is significant that the past two skippers, Al Kluthe and Herald Hylton, won all-conference honors for two years while in junior college.

Besides naming their choice for captain, the football players will receive the coveted monograms for the past season from Coach Bill Cook. Honored guests at the grid affair will be four University of Southern California football players Jim Musick, Orv Mohler, Marshall Duffield and "Dutch" Wilcox. Sheldon Hayden, adviser of the Bachelors and instructor of public speaking, will be toastmaster.

Eight Day Old Horse Is Yearling

SAN CLEMENTE, Jan. 7.—All horses have a birthday on January 1 regardless of the day on which they are born. On December 23 a filly, by Sun Shot, out of Vera Rita was born on the Ole Hanson breeding farm at San Clemente. The filly when eight days old thus became a yearling. Which is tough on the horse and breeder when it comes to racing for now when the filly is a two year old and ready for racing it won't be old enough to run.

All of which is interesting but the thing that pleases Hanson is that the filly was born on the birthday of his youngest daughter Muriel and the filly will be known as Muriel.

PISTOL CLUB IS ORGANIZED BY BEACH POLICE

Frank Swartz, former secretary of the chamber of commerce of Huntington Beach, is sponsoring the organization of a "pistol club" in Huntington Beach, and is being enthusiastically supported in his plans by Chief of Police C. D. Steward and members of the police force. It is the plan to enroll a large membership and have target practice at least once a week.

A range will be constructed at some suitable spot near the city. Practically all members of the police force will be enrolled; bankers and service station operators and others who are being made victims of holdups are wanted as club members. It is the plan to teach the use of a pistol and to train those who have pistols to be good marksmen.

A feature of the club will be that women may also become members and learn to be good marksmen. Instruction will be free. Rev. Luther A. Arthur, pastor of the First Baptist church and a good pistol shot, is mentioned among other prominent citizens who have encouraged the formation of the pistol club.

TOTAL OF 350 PLAYERS BEGIN QUALIFYING R'DS

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—(UP)—A record field of 350 amateur and professional golfers will compete in the sixth annual Los Angeles open golf tournament, which opens today with a 36-hole qualifying round over six different courses. Match play will start Friday at the Wilshire Country club.

Out of the huge field, only 138 will survive for the match play, including 30 professionals who were exempt from the qualifying rounds.

The list of the outstanding golfers who must join the throng of three-score and three is: Eddie Loo of Pasadena and Chicago; Ben Richter, St. Louis southpaw; Roland MacKenzie, Washington, D. C., a member of the 1930 Walker cup team, and Johnny Dawson, Chicago amateur.

The qualifying round was scheduled for just the right day. Apparently, for more rains predicted for tonight and tomorrow, and the possibility is that the match play will be started over soggy fairways Friday.

In practice over the moist Wilshire course yesterday, Charles Lacey, Lakeside, L. I. pro, had a card of 71; Walter Hagen, playing with Willie I. Hunter, scored a 7 to win one up, and Charles Guo had a 70.

Among the headlines on various courses who will qualify today are:

Potero — Pat O'Hara, Guhlidahl, Lew Waldron, Dunlap, Larry Gleason, Al man, Willie Low, Lew Harold Sampson and L. Grass.

Hillcrest—Vic Dalbe, Cox, John De Paolo, Hughes and Harry Pressler. Rancho—Fred Morrison, Roland Mackenzie, Bill Jelliffe, Chick Fraser, Harold Beer, Marvin Clugson, Jack Tarrant, Perry Ferguson and Elmer Vico.

Hollywood—Jimmy Thompson, H. K. Bacheider, Bud Lawson, Gail Stockton, E. S. Armstrong and Al Cameron.

Fox Hills—Joe Bear, Dallas Bfews, Lew Owen, Dewey Longworth, Willard Hutchins and Ben Richter.

Sunset Fields—Johnny Dawson, Mike Turnesa, Eddie Loo, Danny Sangster, Art Roux and Eric Jeavall.

Because it would be obviously unfair to compare scores made on one course against low scores on another, the 16 low players in each field will qualify for Friday's play.

Fullerton Votes On Water District January 20

ORDINANCE ON SALE OF FOOD GIVEN READING

FULLERTON, Jan. 7.—An ordinance setting the date for the special election of Fullerton residents regarding the entrance into the Metropolitan Water district was passed by the Fullerton city council last night at the second reading. The date of the election will be January 20.

Details of the election regarding the election boards will be worked out by the city clerk and the city attorney. It was announced last night. Precincts for the election will be as follows: Precinct No. 1, 201 South Spadra in the Baldwin garage; No. 2, City fire hall on West Wilshire avenue; No. 3, Science building of the Fullerton union high school; No. 4, 111 East Commonwealth avenue.

Necessity of increasing the water supply was stressed by councilmen in taking the action on the election. It was pointed out that cities not now members of the district have shown that they are interested in some method of water supply for future need.

In a move to regulate persons selling food and other supplies from vehicles and other movable structures, an ordinance prohibiting such sale without a license was passed at a first reading following recommendation of the city attorney on request of various bodies in the city. The license for the movable stores may be refused or granted at the discretion of the council members.

The matter of securing insurance on police cars which are owned by the city was discussed at the meeting. It was pointed out that police officers are unable to secure insurance on cars while the cars are not being used on duty except at a high rate and it was decided to permit the drivers to insure cars through the company which the city will bear the damage expense on the cars to the sum of $15, the remainder to be provided by the officers.

Purchase of a strip of land on West Chapman avenue which is 45 feet in width and extends from Richman avenue to Drake avenue from E. N. Fuller and Herbert Osborne, was approved by the council following recommendation of the water committee.

Announcement of the meeting of the Orange County Engineers' association January 16 in McFarland's cafe in Fullerton was announced by C. M. Thorpe, city engineer. Discussion of problems relating to the Metropolitan Water district is scheduled for the evening, Thorpe said.

Discussion of the matter of placing a crossing zone for pedestrians on North Spadra road in front of the Fox theater revealed that numerous women and children daily cross the street at that point. It was pointed out that the installation of a crossing zone would prevent possible accidents at that point. The matter was referred to the police committee.

Purchase of fire extinguishers for use in police cars was referred to the fire committee.

H. B. PLANS TO ADD EMPLOYEES DURING YEAR

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 7.—The S. R. Bowen company will not curtail its force of employees in 1931, it was stated today by S. R. Bowen, president of the company.

"We are rather optimistic as to the business outlook," Bowen said. "It is our plan to keep every job and not to curtail our force. We have reached our minimum and we are looking forward to better times in the oil industry, with the consequent increase in our line of business, and possible increases in the force of employees, but we will not decrease our present force during 1931."

Asked as to the plans for the city, Bowen, who is mayor of Huntington Beach, said: "The city force will not be reduced. We will continue the jobs now occupied by city employees. The street department is carrying an excess of the normal number of employees. We are studying the situation with a view of creating more work in order that jobs will be provided for more men during the next few months."

The Southern California Edison company will not reduce its force of employees in this division during 1931, is the announcement that comes from A. W. Frost, local district manager. The same policy will be followed over the huge system of the Southern California Edison company in its entirety, it is declared.

SAN CLEMENTE SECURES GOOD FLOW OF WATER

SAN CLEMENTE, Jan. 7.—Water has been given to the city of San Clemente by the Ole Hanson-Hamilton H. Cotton syndicate as a New Year's gift. The present to the Spanish village is a well of more than 20 inches capacity, a well that may produce 40 inches under development. The well is located on city property, the San Clemente Golf course, and was dug by the Hanson-Cotton syndicate.

The city is planning on installing pumping equipment and building a new reservoir so as to have an additional water supply from the present reservoir, located in the hills just off El Camino real in the heart of the city. During the past two years continuous efforts have been made by the Hanson-Cotton syndicate to develop water by means of drilling wells inside the city limits of San Clemente. Four wells have been drilled, all of them dry holes until the last one, which was drilled exactly where the city needed the water, on the high hills at the southeast end of the city and opposite the fourth green of the golf course.

A. J. Beaudette, geologist of the Canadian government, known to Ole Hanson in the Pacific Northwest, where Beaudette did the test work for the gigantic Skagit river power site which Hanson secured and started for the city of Seattle, was secured to find water for San Clemente.

Beaudette visited San Clemente and explored the hills 38 times before finally deciding that the hills opposite the fourth green was the place to drill for water. The well was cased and a pump installed. The well was pumped continuously night and day for 72 hours with the pump operating at full normal capacity. The well gained instead of losing and the pump was speeded up to pump 20 inches and the well then stood pat.

An inch of water is figured as nine gallons per minute or about 13,000 gallons per 24-hour day. In this part of California about 40 to 75 gallons are used per day per individual so the well without further developing or drilling of new wells should prove sufficient for about 3000 people.

Sales Force Plans Meeting Thursday

SAN CLEMENTE, Jan. 7.—The sales force of the Ole Hanson organization has been reorganized and will swing into action Sunday, using the San Clemente Beach club as its sales headquarters. "People are beginning to realize that the south coast is Southern California's major development, that real estate is an established, progressive community is a safe investment, an investment bound to prosper regardless of economic depression," said Hanson. "We at San Clemente have felt this trend of the man with money to invest and are prepared to meet the situation."

A meeting of the sales force will be held at A. Travaglini's cafe Thursday and plans for the campaign outlined. On Sunday the first sales lecture will be delivered at the Beach club and lunch served in the social hall of that structure.

NEW ATTORNEY APPOINTED BY LA HABRA CITY BOARD

LA HABRA, Jan. 7.—Harold McCabe, of Fullerton, was appointed city attorney for La Habra at a meeting of the La Habra city council last night. The appointment was made on a $60 per month basis. McCabe was present at the meeting and was chief advisor in legal matters, among which was a matter of cancelling a license for vending machines. A request for cancelling such a license was requested but the council was unable to grant it under the ruling of ordinance 58 requiring the payment of license for the year on such machines.

Mayor L. E. Proud was granted a 90-day leave of absence and H.

A. Robinson was elected chairman to take his place. A request for two masks to be used in fighting fires was made by Fire Chief John Sanks. He also asked for three water proof coats for the volunteer firemen and stated that with this equipment La Habra volunteer fire department would be one of the best equipped of its kind in Orange county. The fire hall has been furnished with beds and bedding for the caretaker. Burt Burnip was named engineer and caretaker of the fire hall at a salary of $25 per month. He will care for the fire truck and will reside at the fire hall.

WATER WELL IS BEING DRILLED IN BEACH AREA

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 7.—The American States Water service company has moved in a rig on the Dieter farm, northwest of the city two miles, and will proceed with drilling a test well there to determine if a sufficient source of water supply can be obtained for Huntington Beach.

The farm is on Westminster avenue beyond the oil area. The farm was formerly a nursery and was the scene of a mysterious murder about 18 months ago. The area contains some of the finest water wells in Orange county. The Southern California Edison company has a well in that general area which at a depth of 150 feet supplies water 93 per cent pure. The water company will test strata down to 400 feet unless an abundant supply is found at shallower depth. The test will be completed in February. The company is determined to provide the city with an abundant supply of water that will be satisfactory in every way, it is declared by officials.

CHAMBER HEAD APPOINTED TO CITY POSITION

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 7.—President W. R. Osborn of the chamber of commerce was appointed city advertising agent at the meeting of the city council last night. Mr. Osborn's salary will be $75 a month. His duties will consist of attending county, district and city functions where it is proper that a representative of the city be present.

Mrs. May S. Jackson, secretary of the chamber of commerce, who has held the position of city advertising manager, was made assistant advertising manager, at the same salary she now receives, $100 a month.

When the matter of naming a city advertising manager was brought before the council by Mayor Bowen, Councilman E. B. Stevens offered a substitute plan under which Osborn would give all his time to the city and receive a salary of $250 a month. Osborn was present and when asked what he thought it was better that he take the work up at the part time salary of $75 a month for a year, and then if results justified and other matters could be arranged satisfactorily, the city might make arrangements to keep a man on full time.

Councilman Elson G. Conrad then made the motion that Osborn be employed at part time on the salary of $75 a month and the motion carried unanimously.

New Officers Of Anaheim Kiwanis Group Installed

ANAHEIM, Jan. 7.—Installation of officers was the principal feature of the Anaheim Kiwanis club at the regular noonday meeting at the Elks clubhouse yesterday.

Officers installed were: C. E. Rundstrom, district trustee; J. W. Price, president; Fred Robbins, treasurer, and Roscoe Young, secretary. The officers were installed by J. B. Collings.

Walter Merrill was received into the club as a new member.

Members of Kiwanis plan to hold a "stag" party at their lodge at Idyllwild January 17 and 18.

WORK ON SIDEWALK FINISHED IN WEEK

PLACENTIA, Jan. 7.—Grading for the sidewalk on Bradford avenue will be completed this week and the walk will be laid in about a week if weather conditions permit, according to the report of City Engineer George Bates at the meeting of the Placentia city council Monday evening.

Bates also stated that the rights of way for that portion of the sidewalk improvement district which includes Chapman avenue had been secured and surveyed.

A letter from Secretary T. E. Pickrell of the chamber of commerce requested the council to consider taking over the present office of that organization as the chamber was planning to take an office downtown.

Another letter was read, from the California League of Municipalities, and it was voted to join this league.

Councilman A. C. Schalles announced that a speaker would be present at the next meeting to talk on a building code.

SEWER PLANT SITE BOUGHT BY COUNCIL

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 7.—Provision of a modern sewer system for this city which will be one of the finest in California, was advanced another step last night, when the city council adopted a resolution for the acquisition of a right-of-way to, and site of, a new disposal plant, northwest of the city. There were no protests.

A letter to City Engineer R. L. Patterson from C. G. Gillespie, chief of the sanitation bureau of the state department of health, was read, highly approving of the city's plans, drafted by the Currie Engineering company, sewer engineers, and Patterson. The letter stated that the new system was needed and that the addition of another unit to the present plant would be inadequate.

The acquisition of a right-of-way and site of the new disposal plant will cost about $7000 and the entire system about $185,000. It will serve all the city except Corona del Mar and Balboa island, which is served by another system. The new system is needed because of the general growth of the community and the installation of sewage facilities in Lido Isle, Newport Heights and other new areas.

LAGUNA GROUP PREPARES FOR FEBRUARY PLAY

LAGUNA BEACH, Jan. 7.—Getting ready to produce a play is a matter of unscrambling chaos with the Community players. At least this is their impression in trying to fill roles vacated or to adapt them, since shifts made necessary in order to produce "The Boomerang" set for an early February date. It is being directed by George Dunham.

Practically all of the players were slated for other parts than those they are now portraying, with the exception perhaps of Ella Jane La Piere as Mrs. Woodbridge. As a result Mrs. Woodbridge has a speaking acquaintance with her role. The rest are dazedly reciting everything from Shakespeare to Gunga Din. First, "The Boomerang" could not be put on unless Charles Gilmore consented to take the leading role of Dr. Sumner. No one else could play that part—positively no one. Mr. Gilmore consented but his health rebelled, and the players shrieked in anguish and tore their hair—the play could not go on. Their grief set ringing the bell of disaster and tucked away in his secluded corner, Fire Horse Whipple heard the challenge and leaped again into the harness to bear the vehicle to success.

The play could now go on. But joy was short-lived. Ten days before the production it was discovered that if success was to be assured, parts of the play would have to be re-written and reconstructed. That was too much—one and all voted to call it off. To correct that statement—there was one in whose breast there still burned that little spark of the valiant trouper. Timmy Parrish retired to the seclusion of his writing room and proceeded to add, subtract and multiply the characterizations and lines. The result was electrifying. Gayety and conscientious effort once more overcame the lagging spirits and the report to date is that the play will now go on.

AVOCADO GROWERS PLANNING SCHOOL

LA HABRA, Jan. 7.—Plans are under way for conducting an avocado extension school some time next month, according to Judge Frank Halm, chairman of the avocado department of the Orange County Farm bureau.

The school is being planned to be conducted under the university extension course and will be held at least two days.

Others working for the school project are Harold Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor, and M. B. Rounds, Los Angeles county advisor, and the avocado growers' department.

STANTON

STANTON, Jan. 7.—Mrs. Minnie Toner, a niece of Mrs. J. H. Rutledge, who underwent a major operation at St. Joseph's hospital, is improving. Relatives from Stanton visit her every day. Mrs. Toner's brother, Roy Sutton, is staying with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rutledge.

Miss Jean McDonald, daughter of married Saturday at the Methodist parsonage in Huntington Park to G. R. Cousins, of Pleasant, Calif. Only immediate relatives attended the ceremony. The bride will remain with her parents to care for her mother, who fell about two months ago and dislocated her hip.

County Rejects Demand For Money As Result Of Death

REQUEST BASED ON BURNING OF TRUCK IN JULY

The board of supervisors yesterday rejected demands for money on the county made by survivors of Raleigh E. Moore, who was burned to death when his truck ran into a ditch on July 25 and one-half miles west of Westminster on Seventeenth street. The demand claimed that the county was negligent in allowing the ditch to exist so close to the road. The demand was made by Edith Moore, widow, acting also for Pauline and Wilda Moore, daughters, and was for $15,000.

The Van Camp Sea Food company, owners of the truck and of the canned fish on it, made a similar demand for $4500, the assessed value of the truck and contents.

In rejecting the demands the supervisors acted on advice of District Attorney Sam Collins, who stated that the ditch had not been completed and accepted by the county at the time. He also declared that the question of liability would have to be determined by the court before the board would be legally allowed to grant the request in any event.

Moore's truck ran off the road and caught fire. He was dead before he could be rescued. The tinned sea food burst and the oil kept the fire burning for hours.

Court Notes

Decree of quiet title has been granted on property in Laguna Beach by Judge C. K. Scovel to Howard C. Ives, et al., against Nellie P. Hills, administratrix of an estate. The decree was granted following a hearing on the same day on which it was filed.

Judge H. G. Ames has granted a petition allowing Petra Carillo, who is under 16 years of age, to marry Pablo Saucedo. An action of the court is required to permit minors under 16 to marry.

Assets of the estate of Lizzie Delaney total $12,154.10. It is shown in the report of inventory and appraisal which has been filed with County Clerk J. M. Backs by John N. Anderson, tax appraiser. Property of the estate includes real estate at Laguna Beach and stock in Smart and Final, a wholesale grocery firm.

Marie and S. J. Pappas are plaintiffs in a quiet title action which has been filed in superior court against J. M. Blood, et al. Property involved is located in Orange.

There were 29 cases set on the civil calendar in superior court this week by Judge H. G. Ames. Of the total number, 12 were for damages or personal injuries; three divorces; and the others included contracts, promissory notes, open accounts, injunction and condemnation proceedings.

A decree of annulment was granted yesterday by Judge James L. Allen after consideration of the case in which he heard evidence last week. The decree was granted to Dorothy D. Magnuson, who had been married to Leslie A. Magnuson at Tia Juana on August 15, 1928, when she was 13 years old. The court held that the girl had not lived with Magnuson as his wife since she was 18 years of age.

The estate of Benjamin Sherwood Haywood is valued at $6500, according to the report of inventory and appraisal which was filed yesterday with County Clerk J. M. Backs.

Cruel and inhuman treatment on the part of her husband, Edward W. Epperly, is charged in a divorce complaint that was filed in superior court yesterday by Estelle Epperly. They were married in 1924.

For Coughs

From Colds Where One Is Willing To Pay To Be Sure

Cremulsion is made to do the utmost for a cough from colds. It combines seven major helps in one—the best help known to science. It is for quick relief, for safety, when the cough seems deep. Mild cough may yield to a lesser help—to some single factor, maybe. But no one can tell which factor will do most for any certain cough. And all coughs should be stopped at once. So careful people, men and women, give Cremulsion for any cough that starts. The cost is $1.25—a little more than some help. But it means a genuine help—the best you can have. And it costs you nothing if it fails to bring the quick relief you seek. Your druggist guarantees it.

Legion To Hold Dinner Meeting

The regular monthly dinner meeting of the Santa Ana post of the American Legion is to take place next Thursday at the Legion hall at 8:30 p. m. There will be a short business session after the dinner and a program of "de luxe" entertainment following the business meeting.

Other Legion activities for the month include a district meeting at Seal Beach on the 10th and an area meeting at Riverside on Sunday, January 11. The regular business meeting of the post will be held on January 22.

BANDIT HOLDS UP DRIVER OF LOCAL TAXICAB

Another daring holdup was added last night to those committed within the past few days in different parts of Orange county when a well dressed and dapper bandit, posing as a passenger in a taxicab operated by the Owl Taxi company, held up and robbed Cecil Williams, driver, 212 North Main street, of his car and about $10 in cash, the latter sum being the amount of change carried by the driver.

According to a report filed at police headquarters, the bandit walked into the taxi company's office on North Main street shortly after 11 o'clock, and asked to be taken to 1520 North French street. When the driver and his bandit-fare reached the French street address, the latter, sitting in the rear seat, reached over and hit the driver on the head with a gun carried in his right hand, and followed up the attack with a blow from the left hand. Neither blow was very hard. On recovering from the attack, the driver looked into the muzzle of a gun and was ordered to hand over his cash and lose no time about it. Williams handed over the change he carried in his pocket. The driver was told to get out, and the bandit started off, driving the cab to the intersection of Seventeenth and Main, where it was abandoned.

Police News

Harry Edwards, county welfare officer of the American Legion, reported to the police that a man about 45 years of age, slender build, dark complexion, dressed in a blue pin-striped suit, yesterday attempted to pass a forged U. S. government pension check. The suspect speaks with a decided Southern accent, it was added in the report.

Mrs. D. J. Hassett, 906 North Olive street, reported to the police last night that a prowler was hiding behind a tree in her front yard, and apparently had designs on her place. Police officers sent out to investigate failed to locate the suspect. They were given a fairly good description of the man, however, which was given to the night patrol.

ried in Coronado in 1924 and separated December 15, 1930. The plaintiff alleges her husband choked her so hard that a throat operation was made necessary and that when she returned from the hospital he told her he wished she had died. Mrs. Epperly also charges the defendant with refusing to pay the household bills or provide her with the necessities of life.

POLICE CHIEF SPEAKS BEFORE EXCHANGE CLUB

"Police and Traffic Problems" was the subject of a talk made before members of the Santa Ana Exchange club, by Chief of Police L. C. Rogers, at its regular meeting at the Ketter cafe yesterday.

"Co-operation on the part of officers on duty is the vital thing about handling traffic as well as other police work," Chief Rogers said, "and I have stressed it in my department from the very first. If officers on the same force do not co-operate, then it can hardly be expected for one department to function properly with another," he said.

Rogers gave statistics regarding traffic accidents in Santa Ana during the past year. There were only five persons killed, he said, and stated that this number probably had been kept so low due to the vigilance of his department in inspecting brakes on cars at regular intervals. He said there were a total of 1700 citations issued to Santa Ana motorists during the year for defective brakes. These were forced to appear in police court later, with certificates showing that the brakes had been repaired.

Rogers asked members of the Exchange club to aid him in making 1931 the banner year in the prevention of automobile accidents, by seeing at all times that their cars were in good mechanical condition.

Various committees for the activities of the year were announced by W. Lester Tubbs, who recently was elected president of the organization. They are as follows: greeters—Dr. Cassius Paul, Paul LeBar, Harold Brown and Charles Van Wyk; welfare—Charles Pritchard, John Ott and Dr. Wade; civic—William Rohrbacher, Bob Schilling and Charles Van Wyk; entertainment—Al Fernandez Eugene Hays and H. P. Harrison; golf—John Wehrly, Kemp Taylor and William Rohrbacher; inter-club—Clyde Jenken, John Ott and Charles Swanner; membership—R. H. Brinkerhoff, Carl Stein and Earl Christensen; sickness—Frank Koss, Merle Morris and Hugh Whiesnan; bill of fare—Jim Mahoney, Sol Gonzales and Stanley Clemen; publicity—Clyde Jenken and Leonard Baker.

Directors of the organization are W. Lester Tubbs, Stanley Clemen, Leonard Baker, John Ott, Mortimer Hall, Charles D. Swanner, Charles Pritchard, Eugene Hays and Clyde L. Jenken. The entertainment program at the meeting yesterday included several trombone solos by D. C. Cianfoni.

This will make a very pretty picture with its variety of beautiful colors. The sky can be light greenish blue with warm gray clouds blending into the distance a very light purple; the middle distance is a mixture of light greens, purple and browns; the trunk of the tree should be blue gray shaded with purple and brown; the large vine should be dark brown and purple with a touch of green; the small branches can be a green gray with light green berries, shaded with a little yellow and brown. The birds are almost white, with black wings speckled with white; the head is streaked with black and white; the small bird in the center at the right is the female, the other two birds are male birds and have bright red spots on top of their heads. The eyes, feet and beaks are dark greenish gray, almost black. Do not be afraid to use strong colors; that is the only way to get life and atmosphere into your picture.

OFFICERS FOR CHURCH TO BE NAMED TONIGHT

Officers for the ensuing year are to be elected at the annual meeting of the members of the First Christian church, which is to be held following a dinner in the educational building at the corner of Sixth and Birch streets at 6:30 p. m. today.

Reports of the past year's activities and plans for this year will be presented to the congregation in reports from department heads during the evening. A musical program is to be presented under the direction of E. H. Elsener, including orchestra selections by the six-piece orchestra of the Men's Community Bible class, which is directed by James Ingham.

The list of men recommended for election by a nominating committee and approved by the official board follows:

Legal trustees—H. C. Head, T. D. Knights and L. Crasher.
Elders—A. W. Gervard, T. D. Knights, L. Crasher, W. R. Robb, W. C. Roberts, M. D. Haskell, B. O. Brown, W. J. Morrison and Fleetwood Bell.
Deacons—R. A. Cashion, A. Hansler, Geo. Taylor, T. E. Williams, George Allison, H. L. Harding, S. E. Cook, R. W. Pearce, James O'Brien, Warren DuBois, John Mills, Dr. Ralph Muraine, D. H. Tibbals, L. A. Hill, Henry Haskell, Gus Stumpf, J. W. Gill, I. L. Brindline, R. L. Montgomery, C. A. Lansdowne, Dr. Horace Leasing, J. Catherman, Guy Penn, Paul Neff, W. P. Hagthrop, C. Monroe, W. E. Rime, C. E. Redmond, L. E. Williams, George Gould, W. E. Dixon, W. S. Murray, J. A. Taylor, J. J. Williams, Ted Faulkner and C. E. Alden.

Advisory board—Roscoe Wilson, J. C. Sexton, E. G. Summers, A. W. Rime, F. E. McCarter, J. A. George, C. B. Hurd, W. King Morrison, W. B. Martin, W. E. Lewis, Royce Williams, C. H. Lawrence, T. P. Kinney, C. L. Johnson, G. P. O'Connor, Francis Hall, Paul Johnson, C. F. Skirvin, Ross F. Taylor and Bruce Switzer.

Several recommendations were made to the Farm bureau board of directors at its meeting yesterday by the tax committee, including a recommendation that the budget of the agricultural commissioner's office, now directed by A. A. Brock, be increased approximately $6000 per year to provide better salaries for inspectors. The committee reported that sufficient salaries are not paid to inspectors to enable the department to hold them and that as a result some districts had as many as three and four inspectors working in one year.

A report concerning the county library was made by the committee, showing that there is now a two-cent rate on the tax roll for this department, and expressing the opinion that it was very efficiently operated. No recommendation was made but the opinion was expressed that the salary of the director is below the amount that it should be for the type and class of work done, and the matter was referred to the ways and means committee.

The president, J. W. Crill, was authorized to appoint committees to make arrangements for the western states conference, which is to be held in Santa Ana next July.

The ways and means committee also was instructed to check the proposed building code which is being prepared by the county planning commission for submission to the supervisors and determine how the interests of the farmers are affected by its provisions.

College Group Shares Skating Party In Los Angeles

Spending an evening on the ice at the Palais de Glace in Los Angeles, members and guests of Santa Ana Junior college Press club held an enjoyable skating party last night.

Between 40 and 50 Dons and Donnas joined the party, which was sponsored by the Journalists and included all students of the college. Arrangements for the affair were concluded by John "Sky" Dunlap, president, and Ted Roth. After arriving at an early hour, the skaters spent several hours on the ice and then the collection met for supper in a nearby restaurant.

Some of those present were "Pete" Wood, Miss Ruth Miller, Clarence Hapes, Harry Motley, Dale Van Gorkum, Herman Hoch, Miss Helen Krone, Ray Kohler, Miss Velma Bishop, John "Sky" Dunlap, Leonard Noland, Virgil Brown, Miss Helen Mayes, Bob DePree, Miss Gladys Lloyd, Ted Roth, Alfred Forney, Donald Edgar, Sheldon Hayden and Edgar M. Flowers. Press club faculty adviser.

Woman's Club Members Enjoy Educational Film and Lecture

In thorough harmony with the day's program theme of "Science at Work," was a motion picture film shown yesterday afternoon through the courtesy of the Southern California Edison company, for the pleasure and instruction of Santa Ana Women's club members at their meeting in the Congregational church bungalow.

Mrs. William Whitehead, Charles Hoehn and Charles Overstolz had planned the program, arranging a roll call to be answered by favorite sentences of individual members. In the business session conducted by the president, Mrs. W. H. Kuhn. In this interval plans were made for the annual dinner party of the club in celebration of its thirty-first anniversary. Such celebrations have been held in St. Ann's Inn in previous years, but this year with the Inn gone, the clubwomen will meet in the Christian church social hall adjoining, when midday luncheon will be served by the church aid society, on Tuesday, February 3.

Mrs. G. J. Mosbaugh, a member of the program committee for the next meeting of the club on January 20, has invited the members to meet in her home, 636 North Broadway, rather than in the church bungalow. Announcement was made also of the meeting of the Arts and Crafts section on Wednesday, January 14, with Mrs. Harvey Riggle, 723 Orange avenue.

Following the routine of the business interval, Walter Gardner Blossom of Los Angeles, superintendent of education with the Edison company, was introduced, and presented a most interesting lecture in connection with an educational film, "With Aladdin's Lamp" and its attendant genie as his theme, the speaker showed details of Oriental life, weaving actuality and fantasy together in delightful fashion, and giving unusual views of the splendor of palaces and their settings. This served as a prelude to modern magic and the genie which reign over such wondrous things as travel, illumination and a score of matters in which electricity has been truly the "slave of the lamp."

Modes of travel from the early stage coach to the present electric liners and trains were shown, as well as a pictorialization of the life of that modern wizard, Thomas A. Edison, with the explanatory lecture which knitted all the varied features together. Water and its place in California's life as the means by which electric power is generated followed, and served to show some magnificent scenes in the High Sierras as well as the tremendous engineering projects put into execution by the Edison company.

Picture and talk were so interesting, and recognized as being unusually educational, that the clubwomen accorded the speaker a very enthusiastic appreciation. To conclude the program Mrs. Hoehn read an excellent paper in which phases of modern living to which everyone is accustomed, were presented as seen through the eyes of Rip Van Winkle.

Shiloh Circle

Impressive installation services held recently by members of Shiloh Circle, Ladies of the G.A.R., served to place the newly elected officers in the various chairs which they will occupy throughout the remainder of 1931, and provided an interesting afternoon.

Mrs. Emma Wright, past president, assisted by Mrs. Maud Wallace, also a past president, and M. N. Fuller, a member of Sedwick post, G.A.R., conducted the ritualistic work which advanced Mrs. Fuller's wife, Mrs. Frances Fuller, to the post of junior past president, after a successful and pleasant year in the chief office.

Mrs. Lula Hall was installed as president to succeed Mrs. Fuller, and her official family, as indicated in the office, included Mrs. Sarah Alford, senior vice president; Mrs. Louise Potts, junior vice president; Mrs. Edith Kneel, secretary; Mrs. Rebecca Baler, treasurer; Mrs. Kate Johnson, chaplain; Mrs. Mary Frances King, conductor; Mrs. Frances Fuller, assistant conductor; Mrs. Mattie Conkle, guard; Mrs. Kate Hendricks, assistant guard; Mrs. Melissa Zimmerman, patriotic instructor; Mrs. Estelle Gray, musician, and Mrs. Fuller, registrar.

Glendale Man Wedded To Santa Ana Girl At Quiet Rites

With January have come numerous wedding announcements, and of these none has been more interesting than that revealing the marriage of Miss Evelyn Sherrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Sherrill, 602 East Third street, to Douglas E. Germaine of Glendale. The news came as a surprise to the many friends of the young couple in this city and Pasadena as well. For some time Mrs. Germaine has been artist for F. and W. Grand and company in the latter city.

The wedding was an event of Christmas week, and took place in Los Angeles. For the quiet ceremony Mrs. Germaine chose a smart little tan traveling suit with harmonizing accessories. There were no attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Germaine are enjoying an extended vacation and plan to spend much of it with the bride's parents. Mrs. Germaine is well known in this city where she attended grammar school and was graduated from Santa Ana high.

Club Members Entertain Husbands at Affair In Rees Home

It was in observance of the holidays that members of the K. K. K. group were recent hosts to their husbands, entertaining in the new home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Rees near Tustin. Bridge was the game of the evening, and when scores were added Mrs. W. B. Hawkins and Lee Alderman held high, Mrs. Lee Alderman, second, and Mrs. Donald Brown and Mr. Hawkins, low.

A feature of the evening was the belated gift exchange, as last evening was the first gathering of the club since the holidays. Guests availed themselves of this opportunity to present Mr. and Mrs. Rees with a lovely cake plate for their new home.

To conclude the evening, the hosts served apple pie with whipped cream and coffee. Those present, other than Mr. and Mrs. Rees, were Messrs. and Mrs. Lee Alderman, Thomas Lacy, William Casey, W. B. ## Ebell Society Plans Valentine Party In Nealley Home

Plans to raise money for the general Ebell fund by means of a Valentine party on Saturday afternoon, February 14, was considered yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Modern Poetry section held in the home of Mrs. T. E. Stephenson on North Broadway.

The affair will be held in the Tustin home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Nealley. Committees for selling tickets and making additional plans for the party were appointed at the meeting yesterday.

An interesting feature of the day was a discussion of three English poets, the Sitwells, given by Mrs. M. C. Maloney. The famous family is listed in the English Who's Who. Of these, Miss Edith Sitwell was compared to Amy Lowell, of American fame. Osbert and Sacheverell Sitwell are the brothers completing the trio of writers. All three are noted for their independence, and display much interest in the intellectual fields of the day.

Dainty refreshments were served to conclude the afternoon. The next meeting will be held February 3 with Mrs. M. C. Maloney.

College Student Adds Enjoyable Party to Holiday Gayeties

One of the most charming parties terminating the Christmas holidays, was that given last Saturday evening, when Miss Vivian Herr, student at U. S. C. dental college, and home for the holidays, entertained in her home, 806 North Ross street. Bridge was the chosen diversion, and tables were set in the spacious living room, which was decorated in the seasonal poinsettias and red berries.

When the clever black and white silhouette tables were checked, it was revealed that Miss Catherine Chapman held high score, with Miss Eugenia Gilbert second. They were awarded lovely prizes.

Card tables covered were replaced with dainty linen luncheon cloths, tables were centered with tiny vases of winter flowers, and a delectable two-course supper was served by the hostess, Miss Vivian Herr, assisted by her mother, Mrs. A. V. Herr, and sister, Miss Claire Herr.

Those present were the Misses La Vonne Olsen, Patricia Kennedy, Louise Mastin, Marian Parsons, Catherine Chapman, Gertrude Chapman, Eugenia Gilbert, Florence Cochran, Edith Bailey, Geraldine Cole, Miriam Samuelson, and the hostess, Miss Vivian Herr, Miss Claire Herr, and Mrs. A. V. Herr.

Wedding Anniversary Is Celebrated In Sackman Home

The fact that January 6 marked the 27th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. William Sackman, 1027 West Sixth street, gave opportunity for a merry party of old time friends, to invade the Sackman home on the evening of that date, completely unannounced.

The pleasant evening hours were devoted to music, conversation and reminiscence of days when the wedding of the hosts took place in Los Angeles. The self-invited guests were thoughtful enough to bring ice cream and delicious home-made cake with them, and these were served at a late hour. The departure of the group was to the accompaniment of a shower of good wishes for many more happy anniversaries to come for Mr. and Mrs. Sackman.

Her girlfriends in Santa Ana are welcoming Mrs. Leonard Daigle, formerly Miss Elsie Fluor, who with Mr. Daigle and their infant daughter, have been staying in the Fluor family home, 1514 North Main street, while Mr. and Mrs. J. Simon Fluor were traveling and visiting through the east and middle west. The J. Simon Fluors returned to Santa Ana in time to spend Christmas in their home, and welcome their new granddaughter, little Marilyn Jean Daigle, who was born in Santa Ana Valley hospital on December 25, 1930.

Mr. and Mrs. Daigle have been living in Los Angeles since their marriage a few years ago, but are contemplating returning to Orange county and may establish their home in Anaheim.

Club Members Honor Young Matron With Many Gifts

Last evening's meeting of the Chant and Sew club held with Mrs. Dale Griggs as hostess in her home at 421 South Flower street, was of two-fold interest for members, who anticipated it not only as the first gathering of the year, but as an opportunity to honor one of their group, Mrs. Alfred Moynagh. That she was to be the recipient of the occasion was a complete surprise to Mrs. Moynagh.

An attractive color motif was carried out throughout the evening, and was first evidenced in the bouquets of fragrant sweet peas which harmonized prettily with clusters of cotoneaster. The main diversion was a contest, "Guessing Baby's Needs," and for scoring high Mrs. John Powell was awarded graceful crystal candlesticks. Mrs. Ensey J. Campbell was consoling with an attractive calendar.

The climax of the evening came when Mrs. Moynagh was presented with a large pink basket filled with gifts, and with a large stork just ready to step from his comfortable perch. Mrs. John J. Vernon assisted Mrs. Griggs in planning the delightful affair.

Refreshments harmonized with the chosen color scheme, and were served on individual trays decked with pink dillies, and with tiny pink slippers tied with fluffy blue bows as favors.

Those sharing Mrs. Griggs' hospitality other than the honoree, Mrs. Moynagh, were Messdames Harvey F. Riggle, John J. Vernon, Ensey Campbell, James Smith, Theodor Nath, Oliver Wolkstein, William Woods, J. T. McInnis, George Franzen, Harold Bell, Harvey Emley, Carl Pieter, Edwin Westcott, Earl Wood, E. C. ## Noted Educator to Be Presented Here As P-T. A. Lecturer

"What modern education is trying to do for the modern child," will provide Dr. Frederick P. Woellner, noted Southland educator, with the theme of his talk tomorrow (Thursday) night at the joint meeting of Frances Willard and Julia Lathrop junior high schools, to be held at 7:30 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

Dr. Woellner's address may be heard by anyone interested in modern educational methods, as the Parent-Teacher associations of the two schools are making the affair open to the public as well as to parents of school young people. This will be of interest to the public generally for Dr. Woellner gained a large following in a series of book reviews and lectures in which he appeared in this city. He is a graduate of Columbia university and a member of the department of education of the U. C. L. A. faculty.

Dr. Margaret Baker, president of Willard P-T. A., and Mrs. M. E. Geeting, president of Lathrop P-T. A., have announced a plan to present two joint meetings during the school year, and are hoping to offer Dr. Herbert Stolls, of Berkeley, director of the Laura Spellman Foundation fund under which work in child psychology is being pursued at that university, at the second session in April.

Marriage News Comes As Surprise to Santa Anans

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Woods have just returned from a trip to Yuma, Ariz., where they were married shortly after Christmas, and are established temporarily at 1047 West Second street. The marriage came as a surprise to friends of the couple who were anticipating it as an event of the near future. Mr. and Mrs. Woods will reside in this city for about a month, and will then leave for Phoenix, Ariz., where they plan to make their home. Mr. Woods is a former employee of Barker Bros. in Los Angeles.

Household Tasks Must Be Budgeted

I believe if women budgeted their time as carefully as they do their household expenses, they would be a lot healthier and happier, and their immediate family would benefit thereby to an incalculable degree. The old Romans had a proverb which fits the case to the nth degree: "A sound mind in a sound body." It takes the former to produce the latter and keep it so.

How can a woman be happy and healthy if her mind is in a turmoil and her soul in revolt over being tied to the family wheel without even the rest allowed to slaves? She can't, of course, but the remedy rests in her own hands and only through her own efforts can she step off her treadmill.

Household tasks must be budgeted as carefully as the expenditures. Attack the round of tasks with a definite plan, allow a reasonable time limit for the various morning tasks, plan the meals for the day in the morning so that the ordering may be out of the way, eat luncheon leisurely and stack the dishes to do with the dinner dishes.

Then comes times to do things for one's self. Bathe during your rest period, attend to skin and make-up, give your hair its daily brushing and massage the scalp, attend to nails and rub some softening lotion into the skin of hands and arms, go through your "daily dozen" providing your luncheon has been light (make it so and keep slim), then nap, or read, or dress and go out for a while.

Possessing one's self is the key-note of real contentment. When we feel that we are physically and mentally fit, well groomed, able to face the most critical eye—our own—we are then free to give whole-hearted attention to the needs of our family.

TODAY'S RECIPE
Cranberry Fruit Salad
1 package lime jelly powder

Juice of 1 lemon
1 1/2 cups boiling water
1 cup very thick cranberry juice
1 small can grated pineapple
2 bananas, diced

This colorful delicious salad may be served for luncheon, for a late evening supper with sandwiches and coffee, or for a combination salad-dessert for dinner any evening.

First, make the lime jelly. Dissolve the lime jelly powder in boiling water, add the lemon juice and put in the ice box to cool and start jellifying. When it reaches this stage add the cranberry sauce and whip well.

The cranberry sauce may be "as is" with the berries left in, or, it can be put through a sieve and the smooth puree used. The latter method produces a much nicer salad, in my opinion.

Drain the can of pineapple and fold into the jelly with the diced banana, the banana to be added just before the salad is ready to be moulded. Chill for four hours before unmoulding. Use single moulds or one large one with a well in the center.

A nice dressing to serve with this salad is made by whipping the white of an egg very dry, then combining it with thick mayonnaise, this in turn to be thinned with either lemon or pineapple juice. For the Pleasingly Plump let me whisper that mayonnaise like this has but half the usual number of fat calories.

Steamed puddings, the current leaflet, is yours free of charge this week just for the trouble of sending me a stamped, self-addressed envelope. You'll like these puddings, now is the time to serve them, so please send for a copy if you haven't a good recipe of your own.

Tomorrow, Steamed Salmon Loaf will be the recipe discussed at our cooking lesson.

Little Maid Presides As Party Hostess On Natal Day

Little Miss Betty Householder, dainty small daughter of the Orlo Householders, was a happy hostess to her playmates last Saturday afternoon, at a party given in her home, 1468 Maple street, to celebrate her fourth birthday anniversary.

A rollicking peanut hunt, such childhood favorites as "London bridge is falling down," "drop the handkerchief" and finally a fish pond where each child angled for a cunning toy as memento of the happy day, were features of the afternoon, with Mr. and Mrs. Householder assisted by the latter's mother and sisters, Mrs. Mary R. Robertson and the Misses Grace and Mabel Robertson, in directing the amusements.

The most exciting feature came when Betty was seated in a circle with her playmates, and privileged to open the array of gifts which the children had brought her, and which made it seem as though Christmas had turned around and come back after a definite farewell until another whole year had passed.

And then came that happy time when the pretty pink and white birthday cake was produced, small Betty was permitted to blow out the four pink candles, and the cake was cut and served with iced animal crackers, small cup cakes and ice cream in little flower pots with real posies.

Sharing the party's pleasures with the little birthday maid was Jean Turner, Bonnie Smith, Ethel May Hazen, Peggy Parkinson, Neal Davis, Joyce Davis, Beverly Burns, Joyce Patterson, Lauree Patterson, Clara Jones, Nancy Standring, Clara Jane Standing, Jean Dille, Herbert McMillan and Billy

COHENS, KELLYS COMING

George Sidney and Charlie Murray in a scene from "The Cohens and Kellys in Africa", which comes to the Fox West Coast theater three days starting Friday.

COHENS, KELLYS IN AFRICA WILL BE HERE SOON

And now—"The Cohens and Kellys in Africa." This is the latest picture made by the globe trotting enemies and it comes to the Fox West Coast theater Friday to play three days.

As an added attraction there will be three full days of vaudeville, the acts being some of the best on the West Coast according to an announcement made today by Norman Sprowl, Fox theater manager here.

Chased by lions, captured by cannibals, lost in a harem and kidnapped by gorillas are just some of the things that happen to the two families in their adventures in Africa, making the picture one of the biggest laugh films of the year.

With George Sidney and Charlie Murray are seen Vera Gordon and Kate Price, a quartet of comedians that would make any picture a success. Their Africa picture is said to be by far the funniest the four have made.

EDMUND LOWE TALKS ON LOVE TECHNIQUE

Love making, on the screen, is a delectable business.

It requires more tact, more subtlety and finesse than the average man cares to bring to his personal love affairs. Because he has given to his film characterizations these essential requirements, Edmund Lowe, long ago, mastered a perfect love making technique.

It has worked admirably in all of his love roles, but for his latest Fox movie-tome romantic comedy, "Part Time Wife," which is now showing at the Broadway theater, he was confronted with the problem of bringing realistically to the screen, the worries and embarrassments of a nervous young husband.

"But it is a welcome relief. It is a pleasure to indulge in a good old-fashioned family quarrel, even if it is all in fun, especially with one who uses such convincing arguments as Miss Hyams. I'd like to have more such roles, for I believe marriage, and the conduct of husbands and wives, offers the greatest field for future screen material."

The all-featured supporting cast includes such well-known players as Walter McGrath, Sam Lukin, Louis Payne, Bud Rosing and George Corcoran.

'COLLEGE LOVERS' TO BE HERE THURSDAY

The age when love and its disappointments are taken hard is the college age. It is around this theme that "College Lovers," the delightful First National comedy, which comes to the Fox West Coast theater Thursday only, is constructed.

The story concerns a "dumb" but powerful football hero, played by Guinn (Big Boy) Williams, who takes the elopement of his girl with another fellow so hard that he is going to quit school—thus eliminating the dear old alma mater's football prospects.

Williams is not the hero of the story. That role is played by Jack Whiting, who made such a hit in "Top Speed." Whiting is the college popular guy, the chap who manages everything. He conceals a plot which at the last minute keeps Big Boy in college on the team. The only trouble is that it leads to a lot more complications with the football hero's pal, who also plays on the team.

Marian Nixon is the girl around whom all the intrigue centers. A thrilling football game, with a novel finish, furnishes the punch of the picture. John Adolf directed for First National.

'COSTELLO CASE' AT WEST COAST CLOSÉS

"The Costello Case," a great police story of murder and robbery which has been playing at the Fox West Coast theater here since Monday, completes its run tonight.

With Tom Moore and Lola Lane, together with a supporting cast that can hardly be beaten, the picture is one of the most entertaining that has been brought here recently. It is a James Cruze production and the direction is all that a Cruze would desire.

The story concerns the murder of Costello, an undertaker, and the theft of $50,000 from his safe. Although you suspect the real murderer from the beginning, there are a number of events that make you doubt your selection and the picture is brought to a fast finish through the foresight of a newspaper reporter who seems to always be present when something is about to happen. In more than one way he steals the show.

A Fox movie-tome news reel and a Campus comedy make up the remainder of the program.

The Scarab Murder Case

A PHILO VANCE STORY BY S. S. VAN DINE

"They were together—to my knowledge—for at least half an hour. When Mr. Scarlett entered the study he left the door open by the merest crack, and I was able to hear them talking together. But I could not distinguish anything that was said. Their voices were subdued."

"How long did you listen?"

"For half an hour. Then I went up-stairs."

"You have not seen either Doctor Bliss or Mr. Scarlett since?"

"No, effendi."

"Where was Mr. Salveter during the conference in the study?"

Vance was striving hard to control his anxiety.

"Was he here in the house?"

Hani asked evasively. "He told me at dinner that he was going to Boston."

"Yes, yes—on the nine-thirty train. He needn't have left the house until nine—Where was he between eight and nine?"

Hani shrugged his shoulders.

"I did not see him. He went out before Mr. Scarlett arrived. He was certainly not here after eight."

"You're lying," Vance's tone was icy.

"Wahyat en-nabi!"

"Don't try to impress me—I'm not in the humor." Vance's eyes were like steel. "What do you think happened here tonight?"

"I think perhaps Sakmet returned."

A pallor seemed to overspread Vance's face: it may, however, have been only the reflection of the hall light.

"Go to your room and wait there," he said curtly.

Hani bowed.

"You do not need my help now, effendi. You understand many things." And the Egyptian walked away with much dignity.

Vance stood tensely until he had disappeared. Then, with a motion to us, he hurried down the hall to the study. Throwing open the door he switched on the lights.

There was anxiety and haste in all his movements and the electric atmosphere of his demeanor was transmitted to the rest of us. We realized that something tragic and terrible was leading him on.

He went to the two windows and leaned out. By the pale reflected light he could see the asphaltite on the ground below. He looked under the desk, and measured with his eyes the four-inch clearance beneath the divan. Then he went to the door leading into the museum.

"I hardly thought we'd find anything in the study; but there was a chance."

He was now swinging down the spiral stairs.

"It will be here in the museum," he called to us. "Come along, Sergeant. There's work to do. A fiend has been loose tonight."

ham asked huskily. "What has taken place? And what, incidentally, are you looking for?"

"I don't know what has taken place. Something in Vance's tone sent a chill through me. "And I'm looking for something damnable. If it isn't here..."

He did not finish the sentence. Going swiftly to the great replica of Kha-ef-Re he walked round it. Then he went to the statue of Ramses II and inspected its base. After that he moved to Teti-shiret and tapped the pedestal with his knuckles.

"They're all solid," he muttered. "We must try the mummy cases."

He recrossed the museum. "Start at that end, Sergeant. The covers should come off easily. If you have any difficulty, tear them off." He himself went to the anthropoid case beside Kha-ef-Re and, inserting his hand beneath the upstanding lid, lifted it off and laid it on the floor.

Heath, apparently animated by an urgent desire for physical action, had already begun his search at the other end of the line. He was by no means gentle about it. He tore the lids off viciously, throwing them to the floor with unnecessary clatter.

Vance, absorbed in his own task, paid scant attention except to glance up as each lid was separated from the case. Markham, however, had begun to grow uneasy. He watched the Sergeant disapprovingly for several minutes, his face clouding over. Then he stepped forward.

"I can't let this go on, Vance," he remarked. "These are valuable treasures, and we have no right."

Vance stood up and looked straight at Markham.

"And if there is a dead man in one of them?" he asked with a cold precision that caused Markham to stiffen.

"A dead man?"

"Placed here tonight—between eight and nine."

Vance's words had an ominous and impressive quality, and Markham said no more. He stood by, his features strained and set, watching the feverish inspection of the remaining mummy cases.

But no grisly discovery was made. Heath removed the lid of the last case in obvious disappointment.

"I guess something's gone wrong with your ideas, Mr. Vance," he commented without animus: indeed, there was a kindly note in his voice.

Vance, distraught and with a far-away look in his eyes, now stood by the glass case. His distress was so apparent that Markham went to him and touched him on the arm.

"Perhaps if we could re-calculate this affair along other lines—" he began; but Vance interrupted.

"No; it can't be re-calculated. It's too logical. There's been a tragedy here tonight—and we've too late to intercept it."

"We should have taken precautions. Markham's tone was bitter.

"Precautions! Every possible precaution was taken. A new element was introduced into the situation tonight—an element that couldn't possibly have been foreseen. Tonight's tragedy was not part of the plot." Vance turned and walked away. "I must think this thing out. I must trace the murderer's reasoning." He made an entire circuit of the museum without taking his eyes from the floor.

Heath was puffing moodily on his cigar. He had not moved from in front of the mummy cases, and was pretending to be interested in their crudely colored hieroglyphs. Ever since the "Canary" murder case, when Tony Skeel had failed to keep his appointment in the District Attorney's office, he had, for all his protests, believed in Vance's prognostications; and now he was deeply troubled at the other's failure. I was watching him, a bit dazed myself, when I saw a frown of puzzled curiosity wrinkle his forehead. Taking his cigar from his mouth he bent over one of the fallen mummy cases and lifted out a slender metal object.

"That's a hell of a place to keep an automobile jack," he observed. (His interest in the jack was obviously the result of an unconscious attempt to distract his thoughts from the tense situation.)

We had gathered about Vance in tense silence, not knowing what to expect but feeling that we were on the threshold of some appalling revelation.

Vance inserted the elevating lever, which Heath handed him, into the socket, and moved it carefully up and down. The jack worked perfectly. At each downward thrust of the lever there was a metallic click as the detent slipped into the groove of the rack. Inch by inch the end of the ponderous granite lid—which must have weighed over half a ton—rose.

Heath suddenly stepped back in alarm.

"Ain't you afraid, Mr. Vance, that the lid'll slide off the other end of the coffin?"

"No, Sergeant," Vance assured him. "The friction alone of so heavy a mass would hold it at a much greater angle than this jack could tilt it."

The head of the cover was now eight inches in the clear, and Vance was using both hands on the lever. He had to work with great care lest the jack slip from the smooth under surface of the granite. Nine inches... ten inches... eleven... twelve. The jack had almost reached its limit of elevation.

With one final thrust downward, Vance released the lever and tested the solidity of the extended jack.

"It's safe, I think..."

Heath had already taken out his pocket-light and flashed it into the dark recesses of the sarcophagus.

"Mother of God!" he gasped.

I was standing just behind him, leaning over his broad shoulders; and simultaneously with the flare of his light I saw the horrifying thing that had made him call out.

In the end of the sarcophagus was a dark, huddled human body, the back hunched upward and the legs hideously cramped, as if some one had hastily shoved it through the aperture, head first.

Markham stood bending forward like a person paralyzed in the midst of an action.

Vance's quiet but insistent voice broke the tension of our horror.

"Hold your light steady, Sergeant. And you, Markham, lend me a hand. But be careful. Don't touch the jack."

"Too high," he murmured. "Three feet from the floor! It couldn't have been done. But it had to be done somehow..."

He looked about him. "That taboret!" He pointed to a small solid oak stand, about twenty inches high, against the wall near the Asiatic wooden statue.

"It was not there last night; it was beside the desk-table by the obelisk—Scarlett was using it." As he spoke he went to the taboret and picked it up. "And the top is scratched—there's an indentation..."

He placed the stand against the head of the sarcophagus. "Quick, Sergeant! Bring me that jack."

Heath obeyed with swiftness; and Vance placed the jack on the taboret, fitting its base over the scars in the wood. The lifting-head came within an inch of the underside of the sarcophagus lid where it extended a few inches over the end elevation between the two projecting lion-legged supports at the corners.

Markham stood looking down at the inert body in stupefaction.

THE TINYMITES
STORY BY MAI COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

The bridge, deep in the forest, was a very pretty sight because 'twas all built by the natives out of logs from great big trees. It stretched across an open space. Said Clowny, "What holds it in place?" and Scouty answered, "Those big logs can hold it up with ease."

The Travel Men said, "Natives work real hard and never stop to shirk. That's why they do all things up right. They know that plan is wise. You'll find it's never any fun to only have a task half done. Results are bound to always come to anyone who tries."

Woe Coppy laughed and swung about. "A lecture's being handed out," said he. "But I don't mind it 'cause I think that's what we need. Where'er there's work that must be done, we always loaf through it, in fun. I know that we'd do better work if we would show some speed."

They all piled in their truck again to ride a mile or so. And then they heard a funny snorting.

"What is that?" one Tiny cried. The Travel Man said, "I don't know, but we can find out if we go toward where the snorting came from. Surely something will be spied."

They rode a hundred yards or more and then found out what was in store. A great big elephant stood near. The snorting came from him. "Oh, look!" cried Carpy. "If you please, he's helping pull down great big trees. His winding trunk must be real strong, the way he grabs a limb."

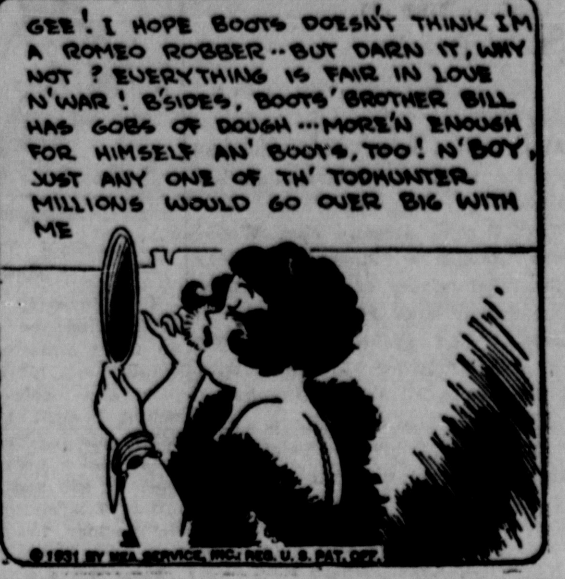

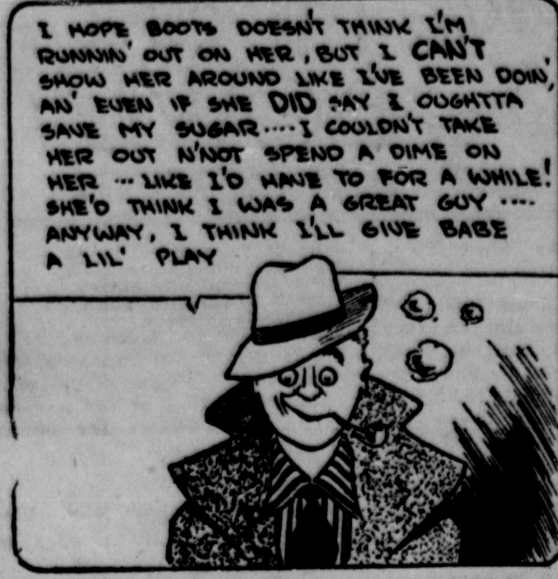

And he was absolutely right. The Tinies saw a wondrous sight. The husky looking elephant was strong as he could be. He'd pull and snort and snort some more. The Tinies thought that he was sore, but 'twas his way of doing things. Then, down would come the tree.

(The Tinymites watch natives work on a bridge in the next story.)

Comfort and Chic in Sports Wear

I. diagonal material in two colors fashions this smart coat dress.

You may now golf, hike or motor to your heart's content and know that practical clothes need not sacrifice a bit of that girlish charm

II. there is chic in this four-piece outfit of soft tweed designed for autumn travel.

all costumes from Peck and Peck

III. this tweed skirt and suede jacket improve belated golf.

IV. campus sports take on new zest if you wear this wind-breaker suit with striped jumper.

YOUR comfort is being given due consideration, you will be glad to know, in the matter of sports clothes this year.

There are all manner of lovely and flattering things made just for those in-between days when it has heretofore always been so hard to dress just right.

Too mild for a fur coat, too cold for an early autumn suit, you really need sports things that will not overheat and yet keep you warm enough.

It is for these days of active sports that a whole line of sports things have been created. You need not sacrifice a single speck of your girlish charm to be garbed most practically for golf, hikes, autoing or watching outdoor events this winter.

Many lightweight jersey frocks have tweed-lined coats. Many of the short reeler coats are soft as silk in the hand, but warm as toast to the wearer. Fur touches up many a costume to keep your neck nice and warm and your hands cozy.

Among the foremost of the smart costumes for in-between days woolen frocks stand high. Many of these have a way of using heavy, warm tweed for the skirt and part of the waist with the upper part of the waist in matching tweed in a lighter weight. Over these you can slip a coat of the heavy tweed, if you need it.

I. BLACK and white diagonal tweed makes a charming coat frock of this type, a boon to you if you want to be perfectly comfortable inside and outside the house.

The heavy tweed, with predominating white, makes the skirt and part of the waist. Similarly a black tweed, in the same diagonal weave, forms the top of the frock. The frock buttons around the body and then belts with self material.

There are neat revers to the little neckline, with a collar of the material across the back. Cuffs are made of the lighter-toned material, in trim, fitted form.

A little beret is fashioned of the lighter toned tweed, with a front band of the darker, and a scarf of the lighter has its ends dark. It is the kind of frock you could wear with perfect assurance to any game and just the right frock for donning when you start out on a hike, perhaps ending somewhere for tea in a cozy inn along the road.

II. IF you are thinking of motoring much this winter, especially if you mean to drive a sports model car that keeps you healthily out in the open, you should look at the new four-piece suits.

These have a jacket suit, tailored to the queen's taste, a blouse, usually of some decorative type, and a full-length matching great coat which is warm enough to withstand the most rigorous of winter blasts.

One of these four-piece suits is made of Bur-

by Julia

gundy red tweed, in dull, pebbly weave. Its coat is hiplength, and belted, its skirt has quite a flare, and its little blouse is of red and beige, in lacy pattern, long-sleeved and finished in a round, demure neck.

The topcoat is quite fitted and has a tremendous flare to it, enough of a skirt portion to thoroughly cover your knees, which I know you will consider a boon. There is a handsome skunk collar, large and luxurious, so your ears can't possibly get cold when it is turned up.

To top this outfit, a little beret of matching red felt has a little cockade of beige and red feathers stuck up at one side of the front.

III. IF you are a golfer, you will be interested in the roustabout windbreak made in a lovely green suede. It laces up to a Prince of Wales collar with dark green lacings, and its overbanding around the waistline is woven light and dark green and fits snugly over any waist.

There is a little beret of the light green suede, monogrammed in dark. With this outfit you can wear a heavy dark green tweed skirt, of the wrap-around or of the flaring type, and some of the new golf shoes that have decorative tongues hiding their lacing.

IV. FOR college wear, you will welcome a little sports outfit in rust-red jersey which is much more dressy than most little suits of this type.

The skirt has fullness from the waistline, a new wrinkle, and the jacket is a windbreaker that gathers into a wide hip band that can be worn at normal waistline if you look better with it that way. There is a little tailored blouse under the windbreaker, made of plain rust jersey, with a vestee and collar of striped rust and white jersey. The beret is very new, a shirred jersey version of the winter's most popular bit of headgear.

V. IF you want to be warm as toast for outdoor sports events, but not feel bungle-some, there are reefer jackets this year, made of polo cloth, camel's hair, dromedary cloth and other nappy materials.

They have skirts of the same cloth and the same colors, but in a different design. If you have a plain colored jacket, you should have a striped or plaid skirt, or vice versa.

One of these is Russian in its feeling, with its reefer coat buttoned up one side with leather buttons. The skirt is made of shadowed diagonal striped material in the same rich beige as the jacket. That lost freedom, which owes its disappearance to the prevailing femininity in fashions, stages a successful comeback in the skirts and jackets that are designed for sports. There is a gay colorfulness to them which belongs only to the twentieth century athletic program. While evening clothes are interested in glamour, sports attire cultivates smartness.

V. Dromedary cloth chooses a Russian style for this new two-piece suit.

EVENING SALUTATION

Men in public life in this country are permitted to indulge in the luxury of good taste only moderately.

—CALVIN COOLIDGE.

THE CHURCHES IN AMERICA

So generally has been the thought that the church in the United States is on the decline that it has been commonly accepted as a fact. How often we hear it said that religion has not declined, but that the organizations of religion are very much on the decline.

According to H. Paul Douglas, in an article in the January Current History, the reverse is actually the case. The churches today are stronger financially and numerically than they have ever been, according to the figures of the census of 1926 just published. But Dr. Douglas is not quite so certain that the influence of the religion of the churches is as great as it once was.

Let us consider a few statistics. Fifty-five per cent of the population of the United States are members of churches. This does not include children under 13 years of age. That is a very impressive showing. Membership of churches is growing more rapidly than the general population. Sunday school attendance is only one-sixth smaller than public school attendance, and church expenditures are 40 per cent of the expenditures for public education. It is interesting to note that church membership has not kept pace with the population in cities. This is suggestive of the effect of urban life upon religion. It is also significant that the growth of Roman Catholic membership is slowing up in proportion to the growth of population. This is the result of restricted immigration, and the selective immigration which brings the bulk of our immigrants from the Protestant countries of Northern Europe. Twenty years ago the Roman Catholic church held 34 per cent of the adult church membership of the country. Today it holds 30 per cent.

Financially, the churches spent $851,000,000 upon their current work in 1926. Twenty cents of every dollar went to benevolence, and the ratio of benevolence was the same in 1926 as it was in 1913. In external the organized church shows a steady advance with the growing population and wealth of the country. Yet the significant fact noted by Dr. Douglas is that the church has shown no originality or keenness of adaptation. This is the pessimistic phase of the whole religious question. And religious leaders would do well to heed that if the church is to continue to be a vital and guiding force in social life.

WORTHLESS OPINIONS

The freshmen of Ripon college, a small college in Wisconsin, have been solicited for their opinions on democracy, companionate marriage, divorce, socialism, and other matters which are interesting the public in these days. These youngsters are just fresh from the high school, and therefore have done little or no thinking at all. We are told that they are dead against divorce and companionate marriage, but that twenty per cent of them do not believe that the Constitution is so sacred that it might not be radically changed for the good of the people.

We have heard about wisdom being the ornament of babes and sucklings, but we have always understood that to mean that babes and sucklings have no prejudices. They may have the acquisitive and selfish traits common to all living things, but they never draw lines between races and classes, between clean children and dirty children. They acquire that from older folks. So, we are inclined to think that the opinions of these freshmen on the matters referred to are the result of the teachings of their elders in home and school. They are merely reflecting what they have been taught. We think well of the Constitution of the United States, but we are inclined to agree with the youngsters that it is not like the laws of the Medes and the Persians which were never to be changed. Perhaps some impressive teacher has told these Freshmen about these things.

The opinions of these Freshmen are to be taken more as the opinions of their teachers than their own. It undoubtedly illustrates what they have been taught rather than what they themselves think.

A WRITER PASSES ON

The news, meagre in detail, comes today that Mrs. L. Adams Beck, the authoress, has passed away. She had been writing for a number of years under her own name, as well as under two nom de plumes: E. Barrington, and Lewis Moresby. Each name signifying a different type of writing. It was probably as a novelist that she was best known. Her "Glorious Apollo," and "The Divine Lady," fascinating novels in themselves, probably were responsible for kindling a desire to know more accurately and intimately the historical figures they romanticized and hence having a generous share in the popular and happy interest in biography.

Having penetrated to depths in the mysticism of the east, she had written an authoritative book on that subject "The Story of Oriental Philosophy". It is a boon to the curious mind.

This versatile writer having passed away she has left a wide gap in the field of writers.

STALIN FIRES RYKOFF

The reports coming out from Russia of the removal of Rykoff from the office of Chief of Commissars and from the powerful Polit Bureau by the Executive Committee of the Communist party of Soviet Russia has been the subject of much discussion in this country, as if it were a very unusual proceeding.

The Communist party is the party that is in control in Russia. It acts like every political party in other countries which recognizes that the party in power is responsible for the government. Mr. Hoover is only the titular head of the party. Party leaders determine the policy of the government. The tariff bill was born in party councils. Mr. Hoover is compelled to consult the party leaders. Then why should it seem so strange that the party leaders in Russia, like Stalin and his associates on the Executive committee, should remove officials who are not in sympathy with the policies of the party?

Somehow, Americans cannot see Russian affairs in anything but a distorted way. Everything seems to be irregular there. We cannot seem to see that shooting a traitor to the government or deporting undesirable aliens in Russia is something that is practiced by every government on the face of the earth. In saying this, we are not arguing for the Communist party in Russia, any more than we are interested in the selection of a socialist candidate for president of the United States. We are simply pointing out a situation which is not unlike that existing in every country.

THE MODERN PHYSICAL GIRL

According to a survey made of the girls attending Smith college in Northampton, Mass., the average weight was found to be 123½ pounds, and the average height 5 feet and 4 inches. This is two pounds heavier and one inch taller than the students of the same college in 1903.

One is inclined to believe that this is the result of the more natural and the freer life which the girl of today is living. The modern athletic girl has been freed from all those hampering restrictions which were made upon the girl of 25 years ago. One needs only to take down a file of a Ladies' Journal of that period, and note the abnormal amount of dress which the girl had to put on to play tennis, or go bathing, or engage in any other form of sport. Such dress gave no freedom for the natural movements of a normal girl. With all the criticism that has been made of the modern young woman's dress, there is no question but that the new fashions have produced a more wholesome and more vigorous specimen of womanhood.

A Revolt in the Classics

(The Fresno Morning Republican)

We wonder how many persons who read with interest the report that T. E. Lawrence had completed and was about to publish a translation of the Odyssey, realized what it meant.

Of course T. E. Lawrence, no longer legally existent, is a "name in the news." For Lawrence, now T. E. Shaw, wrote the "Seven Pillars of Wisdom," as a result of his work to free Arabia from the Turks and so to help in the "self determination of peoples."

"The Revolt in the Desert" made a great hit. And so Lawrence became a world figure.

But the Odyssey? Why this story of the supposed wanderings of a mystical person a thousand years or more before Christ?

Let the psychologist explain how it came about that Lawrence, a Greek scholar, immersed in his books at Oxford, became a world force in Arabia, a thousand miles away.

We cannot help but believe that, for Lawrence, the world is still young as it was when men escaped from burning Troy, to enter the virgin ports of the far flung Mediterranean.

And today, when T. E. Shaw, as he has become himself known, feels himself old, he becomes young again in retracing the world with Ulysses.

Everything about Lawrence, or Shaw, indicates that he hates the cheapness of gossip, of mere human curiosity. He loves men and he hates men's superficial minds. He sees in the Homeric story the reality of adventure. The Ithacan had a freedom which Lawrence has loved and yearned for, and could never attain—bound up as he was by diplomats who cheated on their promises to the Arabs.

Lawrence of Arabia will probably go down in history as the great individualist.

Showing Why Farmers Don't Display Nerves

(San Francisco Chronicle)

Only a slight percentage of farmers confess themselves subject to nervousness, according to a recent survey of the health conditions of professional men, trade workers and farmers. No doubt we shall be supplied with learned explanations of the phenomenon, with fresh air, exercise and the great outdoors figuring according to the taste of the explainer. But our idea is something else. We recall having heard an old circus man tell how horses are trained for the ring. Part of the regimen is to explode giant firecrackers at a horse's feet, beat drums at his ears and flash flaring objects suddenly before his eyes. After a while the horse loses all sense of terror and shies at nothing. Then he is safe as a performer. Well, there is the case of the farmer. He is so used to floods, droughts, grasshoppers and surprises that nothing shocks him. His nerves are long since blunted.

Sobriety Required In All Parts of the World

(San Bernardino Sun)

From Tokyo comes the report that the Japanese are drinking 27 per cent less sake, an intoxicating drink made of rice, than they did five years ago. The increase in sobriety is the result of economic pressure rather than temperance reform. There is great pressure for jobs in Japan, as there is nearly everywhere throughout the world, and the drinker finds it harder to obtain and hold a job than the sober man. Economic pressure is working in favor of temperance everywhere. There are too many intelligent men and women today who, if they must choose between modern progress—jobs, motor cars, labor-saving machinery—and liquor, will choose the former. Sobriety is becoming an economic asset.

More Truth Than Poetry

LOOKING FORWARD

When the germ no longer banquets as he pleases
In the vitals of the members of our race,
When we've conquered all the myriad diseases
Which—we're told—some future day will be the case,
When we've bested the malevolent bacillus,
Which will linger here no more to vent his bile,
And contrive more wicked ways and means to kill us,
We shall dwell upon the earth a long, long while.

But we should have some compunction,
Lest we do a cruel wrong,
For the doctor cannot function
When he's made us well and strong.

When at last a wicked world has comprehended
That from rectitude too readily it strays
And its base and evil habits can't be mended
Till it thinks upon the error of its ways,
When the burglar and the gunman cease from troubling
And the profiteer behaves the way he should,
And the countless evil-doers are redefining
Their efforts to be honest—we'll be good.

But one sees some doubtful features
In the working of this plan,
For it means that all the preachers
Will be jobless, to a man.

Your Job

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

Your job, no matter what it is, depends on the right flow of money through the channels of commerce. Or else you are a protesting Thoreau, skulking on the shores of some secluded Walden Pond.

As a matter of fact, virtually all trade now goes on, when it goes on at all, without benefit of barter. Trade depends, and therefore employment depends, on what men do to currency and credit. Not on sun spots, or any other so-called "natural laws." Not on acts of God, but on acts of men.

Our whole civilization, on the material side, is a cash and credit system. Without the needed flow of money, commerce is paralyzed, as the brain is paralyzed without the needed flow of blood. Employers cannot employ. Workers cannot work. In the midst of wealth beyond the dreams of Midas, men go hungry, and poverty stalks through the land.

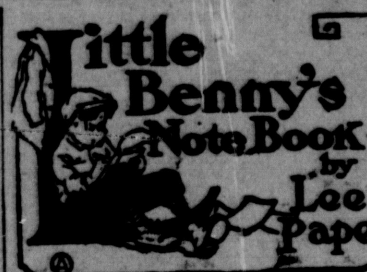

For the whole perplexing industrial world, which goes forward with a rush and stops with a jerk, depends for its motive power on the sale of goods at a money profit. Money is the clue to the mystery. The value of virtually everything is based on the expectation that it can be sold for money.

The warehouses of the world are groaning with apples and alfalfa, beets and barrels, copper and coffee, and so on to the end of a list that would outrun the pages of the biggest catalog. And in all these multifarious things the owners have one interest and only one; namely, to exchange them for money as soon as possible.

How far can they succeed? That depends on the flow of money. The volume of exchanges that can be made on a given price-level, with a given volume of money, at a given turnover, is absolutely fixed. More exchanges require more money. Unless the money is forthcoming, business falls off, plants are closed, men are thrown out of work, business declines further, and the vicious spiral of deflation gets under way.

Yet money is the only item in a list of items a mile long over the supply of which man has absolute and unlimited control. It is about time he exercised that control for the protection of your job.

NALES

A nale's aim in life is useful,
It holds things together and not apart.

But if the hammer's first aim was crooked,
It goes through life with the wrong kind of start.

One end of a nale is pointy
And the opposite end is flat,
So if you have your choice wish to sit on,
It's safer to pick out that.

(But you're usually not consulted.)

Everybody has 10 natural nales
If their fingers and toes are all rite,
But if they hit those nales with a hammer
Their not acting very bite.

Whose happier than a carpenter
All day nailing nales?
He hits each one one the top of the head
And in the wood it sails.

(No wonder, look at the practice he's had.)

Nales are most useful for wood things,
So they can't be hammered with violence,
But 2 sheets of paper and noiseless paste,
Prove kindness is better than violence.

Thoughts On Modern Life

HELPING THE NEIGHBORS

Sitting in my room in a hotel in Washington, at the close of the day, I have just been thumbing the Old Testament, refreshing my spirit, after a day of seemingly endless conferences, with the ageless wisdom of this ancient book.

And this sentence from the book of Isaiah sticks in my mind: "They helped everyone his neighbor; and everyone said to his brother, 'Be of good cheer.'"

The circumstances under which this sentence was penned are not important here.

These words, quite apart from their original reference, seem to me quite pertinent to present-day American conditions.

Yesterday I spoke of the fact that all experience would seem to point to the decently early ending of the business tradition through which they have been passing.

We had our period of inflation.

We have been scared into our period of subnormal consumption.

We have seen much hand-to-mouth buying upon the part of jobbers and retailers.

Inventories of jobbers and retailers are low.

The voice of sanity begins to be heard in the land.

We are recovering from our on-set of fear.

Buying power begins to flow again.

1931 will inevitably see a business recovery.

And this recovery will be greatly hastened if we remember that it is a recovery that rests, not upon this or that spectacular play by the president, by congress, or by certain economic leaders, but upon the exercise of stabilized home sense by the rank and file of Americans whose basic incomes have not been seriously jeopardized, however great their paper losses on factitious securities may have been.

The consumer, the retailer, the jobber, the manufacturer—all are neighbors.

It behooves us to rewrite the words of Isaiah: "They helped everyone his neighbor; and everyone said to his brother, 'Be of good cheer.'"

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

SUNDAY SCHOOL

During the last month numerous letters have been written to me asking if, in my opinion, children, usually boys, should be sent to Sunday school when they did not want to go there.

My experience with Sunday schools has given me a great deal of sympathy with the boys. Here and there one finds Sunday schools that are well organized, have a course of study, graded classes, and trained teachers. These schools have no, or very little, trouble in holding their pupils. But I regret to say such Sunday schools are in the minority.

In most of the Sunday schools that have come under my notice there is little or no organization, no course of study, and no trained teacher. In fact, the teacher is usually missing. The children gather in the space assigned to them, uncomfortable in their Sunday clothes, awed by the solemnity of the occasion, and fidget about until somebody comes along and says, "No teacher today, boys? Well, I'll see if I can find someone for you."

He goes to the young people's Bible class and asks for a volunteer for Miss Absent's class. Nobody volunteers. He asks one of the most attractive young ladies if she cannot help out just for today. "O, no, really I couldn't. You see I don't know a thing about the lesson. I couldn't do it. I wouldn't know what to do."

Nobody else offers. A doubtful glance about the circle assures him there is no help to be had there. Reluctantly he goes to the Men's Bible class. Will somebody please come along with me and take charge of Miss Absent's class today? She is not here. And the boys are waiting.

Mr. Busby, the bank manager, gathers his Bible, his lesson pamphlet, his glasses, his overcoat, stick, hat and gloves, and sadly enough, follows the relieved superintendent to where the weary waiters are camped. They look up greedily and at sight of their drafted teacher, sink back into gloom.

"Good morning, boys. Let's see. How about the attendance? Anybody got the book?" Nobody has. "Well, we'll skip that for today. Anybody know the golden text? Learn any verses to recite? No? Well, we'll skip that today. We'll read the lesson. The boy on the end begin."

Would you want to go to Sunday school? Neither would I. The Sunday schools lack power because they lack the interest of the church community. There is no money to pay for equipment, for material, for the trained teacher. I am strong for the trained and paid worker. We can manage with the volunteer in emergencies but for the prolonged task, the routine job, the paid worker is needed. I can see no reason why a good Sunday school teacher should not be paid. I can see many why he and she should be well paid.

The Sunday school teacher can be a tremendous force for good if he is the efficient sort. But there is no sense in forcing children to go to a Sunday school that does not function. The end is worse than the beginning when that is visited the Sunday school to which you wish to send your child? Exactly how much personal interest have you taken in it? Consider and then try to plan a really helpful happy Sabbath Day for the children.

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

PUTNAM'S BIRTH

On Jan. 7, 1817, Israel Putnam, an American soldier, prominent in the French and Indian and Revolutionary wars, was born in Danvers, Mass.

When news of the battle of Lexington reached him while he was plowing in his farm, Putnam left his plow in the field, as had Cincinnati, and, mounting a horse, rode to Cambridge in one day, a distance of 48 miles. In May of that year, he led a battalion to Noddie's Island, burned a British schooner and captured a sloop. He later was renowned for his bravery in the Battle of Bunker Hill, which was fortified largely on Putnam's advice.

On the evacuation of Boston, Putnam was placed in command of New York, but following his defeat at Brooklyn Heights he was removed from command. He later was restored to the command when he was found guileless for the defense of the Highlands on the Hudson.
